

Federal Programs Ongoing Rental Compliance Manual 1st Edition January 2012

This manual is a reference guide for the compliance monitoring of rental projects receiving funding from federal programs administered by the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCDA). It is designed to answer questions regarding procedures, rules, and regulations that govern these federal and state programs. This manual should be a useful resource for sponsors, developers, recipients, management agents, and onsite management personnel. It provides guidance with respect to IHCDA's administration of monitoring for compliance under 24 CFR Part 92 and 24 CFR Part 570.

IHCDA's staff is committed to working closely with sponsors, developers, recipients, management agents, and onsite personnel to assist them in meeting their compliance responsibilities.

Please note, however, that this manual is to be used only as a supplement to compliance with the HOME Final Rule, CDBG Title 24, and all other applicable laws and rules. This manual should not be considered a complete guide to HOME, Community Development Block Grant (CDBG), or Indiana Community and Economic Development Fund (Development Fund) compliance. The responsibility for compliance with federal program regulations lies with the recipient.

Because of the complexity of federal and state regulations and the necessity to consider their applicability to specific circumstances, recipients are strongly encouraged to seek competent, professional legal and accounting advice regarding compliance issues. IHCDA's obligation to monitor for compliance with the requirements of the regulations does not make IHCDA or its subcontractors liable for a recipient's noncompliance.

Section 1: Key Terms and Concepts

Part 1.1 Basic Concepts & Affordability Requirements

Federal HOME regulations allow for two types of HOME-assisted units:

- High HOME units are HOME-assisted units reserved for households at or below 80% AMI.
- Low HOME units are HOME-assisted units reserved for households at or below 50% AMI.

HUD uses the term “low-income” for households at or below 80% AMI and “very low-income” for households at or below 50% AMI.

In your application you agree to meet additional State specific Area Median Income (AMI) levels. You must continue to meet these requirements throughout your affordability period.

- All units committed to serving households with incomes less than 30% AMI (Low HOME) must be rented to households with incomes less than or equal to 30% AMI at time of move-in;
- All units committed to serving households with incomes less than 40% AMI (Low HOME) must be rented to households with incomes less than or equal to 40% AMI at time of move-in;
- All units committed to serving households with incomes less than 50% AMI (Low HOME) must be rented to households with incomes less than or equal to 50% AMI at time of move-in;
- All units committed to serving households with incomes less than 60% AMI (High HOME) must be rented to households with incomes less than or equal to 60% AMI at time of move-in; and
- All units committed to serving households with incomes less than 80% AMI (High HOME) must be rented to households with income less than or equal to 80% AMI at time of move-in.

All awards must be secured throughout the affordability period by a written, legally binding, recorded declaration of affordability commitment.

Part 1.2 The “Program Rule” and the “Project Rule”

The “Program Rule” states that at initial occupancy, 90% of HOME-assisted units must be occupied by households with incomes at or below 60% of AMI.

The “Project Rule” states that all HOME developments with 5 or more HOME-assisted units must have at least 20% of the HOME-assisted units occupied by households at or below 50% of AMI for the duration of the affordability period.

Part 1.3 The Affordability Period

In your application you stated that you would meet specific Area Median Income (AMI) levels. The length of time for which you must continue to meet these requirements is called the affordability period. The affordability period begins on the closeout date.

The following affordability periods apply to all HOME, CDBG, and Development Fund funded projects, including permanent rental, permanent supportive housing, and transitional housing:

HOME / Development Fund award amount per unit	Affordability Period
Under $15,000 per unit	5 years
$15,000 - $40,000 per unit	10 years
Over $40,000 per unit – or – any rehabilitation/refinance combination activity	15 years
New construction or acquisition of newly constructed housing	20 years

CDBG award amount per unit	Affordability Period
Under $15,000 per unit	5 years
$15,000 - $40,000 per unit	10 years
Over $40,000 per unit	15 years

(*CDBG rental projects cannot be new construction, so there is no separate new construction affordability period listed in the chart.)

Part 1.4 Fixed and Floating Units

A development's Award Agreement will outline whether the HOME-assisted units are fixed or floating units.

Fixed units: The HOME-assisted units remain the same throughout the affordability period. Specific units are designated as HOME-assisted and those units will remain HOME-assisted throughout the affordability period. Any non-assisted units at a property with fixed HOME units will remain non-assisted and can be rented without regard to HOME rent and income restrictions.

Floating units: The HOME-assisted units may change during the affordability period. The unit mix can be changed during the affordability period so that the total number of HOME-assisted units meets the requirements set out in the application and recorded declaration. Each substituted unit must be comparable in terms of size, features, and number of bedrooms to the originally designated HOME-assisted unit.

Note: If all units in a property are HOME-assisted, then the units are considered fixed units. In a property with a mix of HOME-assisted and non-assisted units, the HOME-assisted units may be fixed or floating.

Section 2: Responsibilities

The entities/persons involved in the compliance of the federal and state funds are IHCD, recipients, sponsors or developers, management companies, and onsite management personnel. The various responsibilities for these entities/persons are set forth below.

Part 2.1 Responsibilities of the Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCD)

The Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCD) allocates and administers the HOME, CDBG, and CDBG-D housing programs for the State of Indiana. The responsibilities of IHCD are as follows:

A. Review Annual Owner Certifications

For information on Annual Owner Certifications, see Part 5.3.

B. Conduct Tenant File Audits and Physical Unit Inspections

All emergency shelters, youth shelters, and migrant seasonal farm-worker housing will be monitored for program compliance and physically inspected once every two (2) years by an IHCD compliance auditor regardless of the number of beds in the development.

All transitional housing, permanent supportive housing, and permanent rental housing properties will be subject to tenant file audits and physical inspections throughout the affordability period based on the following schedule:

Total # of Units in Development	Inspection Period
1 – 4 units	Once every 3 years
5 – 25 units	Once every 2 years
26 or more units	Once every year

Tenant File Audits - Recipients will be required to provide detailed information on tenant income and rent for at least 20% or more of the low-income units in the development. Information to be reviewed will include, but is not limited to, the Annual Tenant Income Certifications, the third-party income and asset verifications received to support those certifications, rent and utility allowance records, etc. Recipients must provide organized tenant files to IHCD with documentation in chronological order. For more information on audits, see Part 5.4 A, B, and C.

Physical Unit Inspections – IHCD staff or an IHCD subcontractor will conduct the inspection to ensure that the development meets the stricter of the Indiana State Building Code and/or local rehabilitation standards. Additionally, the inspector will ensure there are no health and safety violations. If items are found to be non-compliant with the Indiana State Building Code and/or local rehabilitation standards, you will be required to correct those items. For more information on inspections, see Part 5.4 D and E.

C. Suspension and Debarment

Should non-compliance be found at a development and if those non-compliance issues are not corrected within the timeframes given, IHCD may suspend or debar the recipient and management company from the program. Suspension or debarment from the program may not only affect the non-compliant award but any awards that the recipient and/or management company are currently associated with. Additionally, suspension or debarment will affect future applications submitted to IHCD.

D. Record Retention

IHCD will retain all Annual Owner Certifications and records for not less than three (3) years from the end of the calendar year in which they are received. IHCD will retain records of noncompliance or the failure to certify compliance throughout the entire affordability period.

E. Possible Future Subcontracting of Functions

It is currently the intent of IHCD to perform all file reviews listed above and outlined in the regulations governing this program. However, IHCD may, in its sole discretion, decide at some future time to retain an agent or private contractor to perform some of the responsibilities listed above. Recipients will be notified of the name and contact persons of the private contractor.

Part 2.2 Responsibilities of Recipient

During the application process, recipients provided comprehensive development information with evidence of overall economic feasibility. The recipient must certify that all program requirements have been met. Any violation of program requirements could result in the recipient being required to repay federal or state funds and may jeopardize future applications for IHCD funding.

The responsibilities of recipients include, but are not limited to:

A. Leasing Units to Eligible Tenants

For more information on leasing requirements, see Part 4.6.

B. Charging no more than the Maximum Allowable Rents (including utility allowances and non-optional charges)

For more information on maximum allowable rent, see Part 3.2.

C. Maintaining the property in habitable condition

The recipient is responsible for ensuring that the assisted units are maintained in a decent, safe, and sanitary condition in accordance with appropriate standards. Failure to do so is a reportable act of noncompliance. For more information, see the Physical Inspection Compliance Guide in Appendix F.

D. Record Retention Requirements

Project records must be retained for five (5) years from the closeout date. Tenant files must be retained for the most recent five (5) years throughout the affordability period, until five (5) years after the end of the affordability period (to determine the length of the affordability period, see Part 1.2). However, if any litigation, claim, negotiation, audit, monitoring, inspection, or other action has been started before the expiration of the required retention period, the records must be maintained until completion of the action and resolution of all issues which arise from it, or until the end of the required period, whichever is later.

The records must include the following:

- The total number of residential rental units in the building (including the number of bedrooms and the size in square feet of each residential rental unit);
- The number of residential rental units in the buildings that are low-income units;
- The rent charged on each residential rental unit in the building and the applicable utility allowance;
- The number of occupants in each low-income unit;
- The low-income unit vacancies in the building, documentation of marketing efforts, and information that shows when and to whom the next available units were rented (this information must include the unit number, tenant name, move-in dates, and move-out dates for all tenants, including market rate tenants);
- The income certification of each eligible person in the household; and
- Third party verification documentation to support each eligible tenant's income certification.

E. Being knowledgeable about:

- Expiration dates, closeout dates, and the duration of the affordability period;
- Relocation of existing tenants, if applicable;
- The applicable set-aside for each unit (30%, 40%, 50%, 60% and 80%);
- Whether program units are considered fixed or floating units; and
- The award number and address of each building in the development.

F. Complying with the terms of the Application and Lien

G. Reporting to IHCDa any changes in ownership or management of the property

- 1) The recipient must notify IHCDa immediately in writing of any changes in the ownership composition. Changes in ownership must be reported via IHCDa's "Ownership Change Form" in Appendix B.
- 2) The recipient must notify IHCDa's General Counsel immediately if the composition of the development changes due to disposition or sale of any units in the development before affordability period is up.
- 3) The recipient must notify IHCDa immediately in writing of any changes in the management agent or changes in contact information including name, address, e-mail address, telephone number, and fax number. Changes in management must be reported via IHCDa's "Property Management Change Form" in Appendix B.

H. Reporting tenant events and submitting Annual Owner Certifications

The recipient of any building(s)/award must annually certify to IHCDa, under penalty of perjury, for each year of the affordability period. The recipient must certify (using IHCDa's Owner Certification form available in Appendix D) that each unit is in compliance with the federal and state regulations of the award.

The first annual owner certification is due by January 31st of the year following the year of the award's closeout date. However, the recipient must begin reporting tenant events in the online system with the first tenant move-in. The report covers the period January 1 – December 31 and is due to IHCDa offices by the close of business January 31st of the next calendar year. The hard copy Annual Owner Certification forms are made available each year on the IHCDa website, <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>, in December. IHCDa will not send the forms to the recipient or management or send an announcement that the forms are available. It is the responsibility of the recipient/management to pull the necessary forms off of IHCDa's website annually and to contact IHCDa if there are any questions or concerns.

The Indiana Housing Online Management website has been designed as a tool to conduct compliance checks to ensure properties stay in compliance, to follow the monitoring review process, and as a way for IHCDa to communicate with our partners using a message board. The message board immediately notifies recipients and property managers when IHCDa sends monitoring letters, releases Multi-Family Department Notices (MFD Notices), Federal and State Program Memos (FSP Memos), or releases other information affecting our Multi-Family partners.

All IHCDa HOME, CDBG, and CDBG-D assisted multi-family rental developments (except for emergency shelters, youth shelters, and migrant farm worker housing projects) are required to enter tenant events using IHCDa's Indiana Housing Online Management rental reporting system. Tenant events include move-ins, move-outs, recertifications, household composition changes, unit transfers, and rent and income changes. Tenant events that must be reported online do not include interim recertifications performed for other programs, such as Section 8 or RD. In order to obtain the maximum benefits from the Indiana Housing Online Management system it is required that all tenant events be entered into the applicable system within thirty (30) days of the event date.

To use the rental reporting system or register to become a user, please visit the Indiana Housing Online Management website at <https://ihcdaonline.com/>. Free on-demand training videos that explain how to use the rental reporting system are available through the website at <https://ihcdaonline.com/Links.htm>. Additionally, in March 2009 IHCDa released detailed guidance on registering for the Online Management website in Multi-Family Department Notice MFD-09-06. This notice (and all other past MFD Notices) is archived online at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2520.htm>.

Additionally, all IHCD emergency shelters, youth shelters, transitional housing, permanent supportive housing, and the units set-aside for the homeless in permanent rental housing projects are required to enter tenant events using IHCD's HMIS system. Tenant events included are move-ins and move-outs.

To use HMIS or register to become a user, please visit the IHCD website at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/3120.htm>. Every user of HMIS must attend a New User Training, HMIS Refresher Course, or a Data Quality Training annually. The online webinar trainings are offered monthly. A calendar of training dates is located at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/3128.htm>.

- 1) Rental Housing Units (Transitional Housing, Permanent Supportive Housing, and Permanent Rental Housing): It is mandatory that all tenant events be submitted electronically using the Indiana Housing Online Management website for all assisted rental housing units. Additionally, a hardcopy of the Annual Owner Certification form must be submitted annually. (For more information on Annual Owner Certifications see Part 5.3.)
- 2) Emergency Shelter and Youth Shelters- It is mandatory that all tenant events be submitted electronically using HMIS. Furthermore, shelter recipients will submit the Annual Beneficiary Report via Excel spreadsheet along with the hardcopy Annual Owner Certification forms. (For more information on Annual Owner Certifications see Part 5.3.)
- 3) Migrant Seasonal Farm Worker Housing The Annual Beneficiary Report will be submitted via Excel spreadsheet along with the hardcopy Annual Owner Certification forms. (For more information on Annual Owner Certifications see Part 5.3.)

I. Training onsite personnel

The recipient must make certain that the onsite management knows, understands, and complies with all applicable federal and state rules, regulations, and policies governing the award.

As a best practice, IHCD encourages the recipient to make certain that the development's property management and compliance personnel are familiar with the Compliance Manual, the compliance forms and information on the Compliance and Asset Management page of IHCD's website (see <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>), and the online reporting requirements through the Indiana Housing Online Management website (accessed through <https://ihcdaonline.com/>) and HMIS (accessed through <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/3120.htm>). For more information on online reporting requirements see Part 2.2 H above.

For information on available IHCD Compliance Trainings, see the training listing at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>.

J. Reporting Noncompliance to IHCD and Replacing Noncompliant Units

If the recipient and/or management agent determines that a unit, building, or an entire development is not in compliance with program requirements, IHCD should be notified immediately. The recipient and/or management agent must formulate a plan to come back into compliance and advise IHCD in writing of such a plan. The recipient and/or management agent must keep documentation outlining: the noncompliance issue, date the noncompliance issue was discovered, date that noncompliance issue was corrected, and actions taken to correct noncompliance.

Example: A household was initially income qualified and moved into a unit on January 1, 2007. The HOME rent limit is $500. At time of recertification on January 1, 2008 the recipient erroneously increased the rent to the market rate of $1,000. During an internal audit dated February 1, 2008 the recipient and/or management agent noticed that the unit was out of compliance, because the rent charged exceeded the HOME rent limit. On February 1, 2008, the recipient and/or management agent immediately corrected the noncompliance issue, documented the file as to what the noncompliance issue was, the date that it was corrected, and what actions were taken to correct the noncompliance issue. IHCD should be notified in such a situation in order to document the project file and note that the recipient correctly fixed the noncompliance.

Additionally, the recipient is responsible for replacing temporarily noncompliant units (units where the household exceeds 80% AMI) as per the guidelines in Part 3.1 C.

K. Program Income

The recipient must properly handle program income. For additional information, see Part 3.8.

L. Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan (For HOME Projects)

An Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan (Affirmative Marketing Plan) is required for all awards containing five (5) or more HOME, CDBG, and/or CDBG-D rental housing units. The Affirmative Marketing Plan must be submitted before IHCD will allow release of funds. The Affirmative Marketing Plan must include the following information:

- 1) What segment has been determined the least likely to apply for the award's type of housing?
  - Families with children;
  - Single parents;
  - Elderly;
  - Disabled;
  - Minority; and/or
  - Other
- 2) Is the market least likely to apply being re-evaluated yearly?
- 3) What efforts are being made to reach the market least likely to apply?
  - Television advertising;
  - Print media – newspapers, magazines, etc.;
  - Community outreach;
  - Social service referral network; and/or
  - Other
- 4) Do the tenant forms include the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Employment logos? Are the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Employment signs displayed at the leasing office and/or the assisted-unit?

Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must be evaluated at least once every five (5) years and updated according to the policies of the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). All updated Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must be submitted to IHCD with the next Annual Owner Certification of Compliance.

Upon project entry, households living in program units must be given the Fair Housing brochure entitled "You May Be a Victim Of." The household must sign documentation acknowledging the receipt of this brochure at time of move-in, and this receipt must be maintained in the household's file. Additionally, all recipients are required to post the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity poster onsite in the leasing office and/or other common area.

M. Affirmatively Furthering Fair Housing (For CDBG/CDBG-D Projects)

All CDBG award recipients are required to take an action to affirmatively further fair housing. The action(s) must reach the general community at-large and not be limited to low-moderate income residents only. IHCD strongly encourages each CDBG recipient to execute a Fair Housing Ordinance during the life of the award as an action to affirmatively further fair housing (a sample Fair Housing Ordinance is located as Exhibit A of this chapter). However, if a Fair Housing Ordinance has already been executed prior to the execution date of the CDBG award, the CDBG award recipient in receipt of the IHCD award must take a different action to affirmatively further fair housing.

Suggested actions are as follows:

- Undertake fair housing enforcement (i.e. complaint processing);
- Work actively with existing entities (public or private non-profit) whose goal is to further fair housing;
- Display fair housing exhibits at local public exhibitions (County Fairs, Festivals, etc.);
- Review local zoning laws and procedures to determine whether the laws contribute to, or detract from, fair housing;
- Use local resources to assess existing public opinion about the status of fair housing organizations, public and private community centers, civil rights groups, and organizations that represent minorities, women, families, senior citizens, and persons with disabilities.
- Develop public information and educational programs promoting fair housing and provide fair housing information to the following types of groups:
  - citizen groups concerned with housing issues (fair housing groups, tenant associations, builders, real estate agents/brokers);
  - organizations representing specific population groups (minorities, women, senior citizens, persons with disabilities); and
  - other local organizations (advocacy groups, unions, voters' leagues).

Documentation of the Fair Housing action taken by the CDBG award recipient must be maintained in the award recipient's award file. Therefore, it is the responsibility of the award recipient to provide the proper documentation for the award files which will be monitored by IHCD.

Upon project entry, households living in program units must be given the Fair Housing brochure entitled "You May Be a Victim Of." The household must sign documentation acknowledging the receipt of this brochure at time of move-in, and this receipt must be maintained in the household's file. Additionally, all recipients are required to post the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity poster onsite in the leasing office and/or other common area.

N. Providing all pertinent property information to the management company

Applicable documentation could include but is not limited to the Application, recorded Declaration/Lien, and applicable IHCD Compliance Manuals. Additionally, if there is a change in management company, the recipient is responsible for proving all information and previous tenant files to the new management company.

Part 2.3 Responsibilities of the Management Company & Onsite Personnel

The management company and all onsite personnel are responsible to the recipient for implementing the program requirements properly. Anyone who is authorized to lease apartment units to tenants should be thoroughly familiar with all federal and state laws, rules, and regulations governing certification and leasing procedures. It is also important that the management company provide information, as needed, to IHCD and submit all required reports and documentation in a timely manner. IHCD requires that all tenant events be reported via the Indiana Housing Online Management rental reporting system within thirty (30) days of the event date. (For more information about the online reporting system requirements, see Part 2.2, H).

Part 2.4 Demonstrating "Due Diligence"

The recipient is ultimately responsible for compliance and proper administration of the award. IHCD expects all recipients to demonstrate "due diligence," hereby defined as the appropriate, voluntary efforts to remain in compliance with all applicable Federal and State rules and regulations. Due diligence can be demonstrated through business care and prudent practices and policies. Part of due diligence is the establishment of internal controls, including but not limited to: separation of duties, adequate supervision of employees, management oversight and review (internal audits), third party verifications of tenant income, independent audits, and timely recordkeeping.

Due diligence also includes keeping up-to-date on amendments to the Compliance Manual, following IHCDAs updates via published notices, and attending IHCDAs sponsored compliance trainings when available. These are all examples of voluntary efforts that recipients and management agents can make in order to remain in compliance.

Another way in which the recipient can demonstrate a commitment to due diligence is by establishing and maintaining a consistent file order. Consistent and well-organized files make it easier for the recipient to recognize when documentation is missing and allow for easier audits.

Section 3: Compliance Regulations

The following section highlights some of the statutory and regulatory provisions directly affecting compliance. The following is not meant as an exhaustive listing of compliance regulations.

Part 3.1 Set-Aside Requirements and Income Limits

A. Set-Aside Requirements

In your application you state that you will meet specific Area Median Income (AMI) levels for a specific number of units. You must continue to meet these requirements throughout the affordability period.

All awards must be secured throughout the affordability period by a written, legally binding, recorded declaration of affordability commitment.

B. Maximum Income Limits

The applicable income limits for a development depend upon the low-income set-asides the recipient has chosen. The U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) publishes income and rent limits for each Indiana county on an annual basis. Upon receipt of this information, IHCD will post the new income and rent limits on its website. This information is provided by IHCD only for the recipient's convenience as a courtesy. However, it is the responsibility of the recipient, not IHCD, to verify its accuracy. New limits must be implemented within forty-five (45) days of the HUD effective date.

Recipients may not anticipate increases in income and rent limits. Limits remain in effect until new annual limits are officially published each year by HUD. Income and rent limits are provided online in Appendix C.

When determining if a household's income is at or below the applicable income limit, the income from each adult household member 18 years or older and the unearned and asset income of all members of household (regardless of age) must be included (For detailed rules on calculating income and assets, see Chapter 5 of HUD Handbook 4350.3 and the Technical Guide for Determining Income and Allowances for the HOME Program, both available in Appendix B).

C. Over-income Households and Temporarily Noncompliant Units

A household residing in an assisted unit is considered to be "over-income" when total household income exceeds 80% of AMI or when total household income exceeds 50% AMI in a Low HOME unit (a unit designated at 30%, 40%, or 50% AMI). When a household becomes over-income, the unit it occupies is considered to be "temporarily noncompliant." Temporary noncompliance is permissible and does not penalize the recipient as long as the correct steps are followed to restore the HOME unit mix. Certain rules go into effect to correct the unit mix depending on whether the over-income household occupies a fixed or floating HOME-assisted unit. Over-income households may never be evicted or otherwise have their tenancy terminated solely because their income increased.

*Note: In a unit that is both HOME/CDBG-assisted and part of the Section 42 rental housing tax credit program, the tax credit over-income rule (known as the 140% Rule) overrides these over-income rules.

1) Over-income households in Fixed Units (Over 80% AMI)

When management conducts an annual income recertification and determines that a household occupying a fixed assisted unit exceeds 80% of AMI, the unit is considered to be temporarily out of compliance. When the household is determined to exceed 80% of AMI, the rent must be raised as soon as the lease permits. Instead of following the applicable program rent limit, the household will be charged 30% of adjusted income in rent. However, if the unit is also part of the Section 42 rental housing tax credit program, the tax credit rent limit must be followed and these over-income rules do not apply.

The unit is considered back in compliance when one of the following scenarios is met:

1. The over-income household vacates and a new qualified household moves into the unit. Remember that the over-income household cannot be evicted or otherwise terminated because of the increase in income; or
2. The over-income household recertifies and no longer exceeds 80% of AMI.

Example:

A household moved into a 40% HOME unit with a qualified income. Annual income recertification shows household is now at 93% of AMI. Since total household income exceeds 80% of AMI, the household is considered over-income and the unit is temporarily noncompliant. When the lease permits, management must increase the household's rent to 30% of adjusted income. When the household vacates, the unit must be once again rented to a household that qualifies at or below 40% AMI and the applicable 40% HOME rent limits would once again apply to the unit.

2) Over-income households in Floating Units (Over 80% AMI)

When management conducts an annual income recertification and determines that a household occupying a floating assisted unit exceeds 80% of AMI, the unit is considered to be temporarily out of compliance. When the household is determined to exceed 80% of AMI, the rent must be raised as soon as the lease permits. Instead of following the applicable program rent limit, the household will be charged 30% of adjusted income in rent (not to exceed the rent on a comparable market unit in the area). However, if the unit is also part of the Section 42 rental housing tax credit program, the tax credit rent limit must be followed and these over-income rules do not apply.

The unit is considered back in compliance when one of the following scenarios is met:

1. The over-income household vacates and a new qualified household moves into the unit. Remember that the over-income household cannot be evicted or otherwise terminated because of the increase in income; or
2. A non-assisted unit (i.e. a market unit or other unit not part of the HOME or CDBG program) becomes vacant and is re-designated as an assisted unit. In this scenario, the over-income unit is re-designated as a non-assisted unit. Therefore, the units swap status. The substituted unit that becomes an assisted unit must be a "comparable unit," defined as a unit that is equal or greater than the original unit in terms of size, number of bedrooms, and amenities; or
3. The over-income household recertifies and no longer exceeds 80% of AMI.

Example:

A household moved into a 40% HOME unit with a qualified income. Annual income recertification shows household is now at 93% AMI. Since total household income exceeds 80% of AMI, the household is considered over-income and the unit is temporarily noncompliant. When the lease permits, management must increase the household's rent to 30% of adjusted income (not to exceed the rent on a comparable market unit in the area).

To remedy the temporary noncompliance:

- i. When the household vacates, the unit must be once again rented to a household that qualifies at or below 40% AMI; or
- ii. A vacant, comparable non-assisted unit (non-HOME unit) is converted to a 40% HOME unit and the temporarily noncompliant unit is converted to a non-assisted unit; or
- iii. The over-income household recertifies and no longer exceeds 80% AMI.

3) Redesignating Low-HOME units that exceed 50% AMI

If a property with HOME units has both High HOME (60% or 80%) and Low HOME (30%, 40%, or 50%) units, the units may have to swap status to keep the proper unit mix. This rule applies regardless of whether the units are fixed or floating.

If a household that is designated as Low HOME (30%, 40%, or 50%) exceeds the HOME low-income limit (i.e. the 50% AMI limit), the unit is temporarily noncompliant even though household income does not exceed 80% AMI. In this scenario, the unit remains temporarily noncompliant until a High HOME unit (unit at 60% or 80% AMI) is vacated. At this point, the units swap status. The vacant High HOME unit becomes a vacant Low HOME unit and must be rented to a household at 30%, 40%, or 50% depending on the set-aside assigned to temporarily noncompliant unit. The temporarily noncompliant unit is re-designated as a High HOME unit at the appropriate set-aside and rent may be increased when the lease permits. NOTE:

Until the units swap status, the temporarily noncompliant unit remains rent-restricted at the applicable Low HOME rent restriction.

Example:

The Smith household moves into a 40% HOME unit on 1/1/10. At annual recertification on 1/1/11, the household is determined to exceed the 50% HOME limit, but does not exceed the 80% limit. Because the Smiths occupy a Low HOME unit and now exceed 50% of AMI, the unit is considered temporarily noncompliant. The Smiths are allowed to stay in the unit and remain rent-restricted at the 40% HOME rent limit.

The Johnson household vacates their 60% HOME unit on 4/1/11. The unit must be converted to a Low HOME unit at the 40% AMI restriction in order to replace the temporarily noncompliant unit occupied by the Smith household. The Smith household is converted to a High HOME unit at the 60% AMI restriction. The units swap status and the temporary noncompliance is resolved.

Part 3.2 Rent

A. Rent Limits for Assisted Units

The rent limit is the maximum rent amount published annually by HUD per bedroom size. The published rent limit includes tenant paid rent plus utility allowance plus any non-optional charges. Therefore, tenants generally cannot actually be charged the rent limit unless all utilities are owner-paid and there are no additional non-optional charges.

The maximum allowable rent is the most the recipient is permitted to charge for rent once tenant-paid utilities (except telephone, cable television, and internet) and other non-optional charges are deducted. The maximum allowable rent can never exceed the applicable program rent limit. Maximum allowable rent may also be referred to as the “maximum chargeable rent” or the “net rent.”

The lease rent is the actual rent charged to the household by the recipient, as defined in the lease. The lease rent may never exceed the maximum allowable rent or the applicable program rent limit.

The gross rent for a unit is the sum of tenant portion rent + utility allowance + non-optional charges + tenant-based rental assistance. The gross rent may never exceed the applicable program rent limit.

Each award has a gross rent floor, defined as the lowest rent limit that the recipient will ever be required to implement for a particular development. The gross rent floor is the rent limit in effect at the time the funds are awarded. If the current applicable limits drop below the gross rent floor, the recipient is not required to accept lower rents.

Additionally, the limits for these programs are subject to a hold-harmless policy. If the actual income and rent limits for a county decrease from the previous year, the limits are “held-harmless” (i.e. artificially held stagnant) at the previous year limits instead of decreasing.

NOTE: If the unit receives tenant-based rental assistance (e.g. a voucher or certificate from Section 8), the amount of the voucher/certificate must be included in the gross rent calculation. Therefore the following rules apply:

- Tenant rent + utility allowance + non-optional charges + tenant-based rental assistance amount = gross rent, which cannot exceed the program rent limit.
- Rent limit minus utility allowance minus non-optional charges minus tenant-based rental assistance amount = maximum allowable rent.

(See Part 3.3 for more information on utility allowances).

B. Rent Limits for Assisted Units with Special Unit Types

The program rent limits may not apply in the following situations:

1) SRO Units

- Defined as single rooms that may or may not have food prep and sanitary facilities.
- If an SRO-unit has neither food preparation nor sanitary facilities, or only one, the rent may not exceed 75% of the Fair Market Rent (FMR) for a zero-bedroom (efficiency) unit.
  - For example, the FMR for a 0-bedroom unit in a given county is $300. The rent limit for an SRO unit (with neither food preparation or sanitary facilities or only one) in that county would be $225 ( $$300 \times 75\% = $225$ ).
- If an SRO-unit has both food preparation and sanitary facilities, then use the program zero-bedroom (efficiency) unit rents or 30% of the household's adjusted income, whichever is the most restrictive. (*Note: all new construction SRO units must include both food prep and sanitary facilities).

2) Group Homes

- Defined as housing occupied by two or more persons or families with common space/facilities for group use.
- The unit is considered a single unit with multiple bedrooms and the rent is calculated as a single unit. Rent cannot exceed the Fair Market Rent for that bedroom size. Each bedroom will have a separate lease and will be charged a portion of the total Fair Market Rent. The combined totals for all bedrooms in the unit cannot exceed the Fair Market Rent for a unit of that bedroom size.
- For example, a group home with four bedrooms would use the Fair Market Rent for a four bedroom unit and each person's rent would be the proportionate share of the total unit rent.

3) Units with Project-based Rental Assistance

The recipient may charge project-based program rents when:

- The unit is a Low HOME unit (50% AMI or below); AND
- The unit receives project-based rental assistance; AND
- Unit is occupied a very low-income household (50% AMI or below); AND
- Tenant does not pay more than 30% of adjusted income for rent.

For example:

- Section 8 maximum rent for a unit is $1200
- Applicable Low HOME Rent Limit for a unit is $750
- Utility Allowance is $100
- Tenant Adjusted Income is $18,000

Rent=  $$18,000 / 12 \times 30\% = $450$

Tenant rent payment =  $$450 - $100$  (utility allowance) = $350

PHA rent payment to the recipient =  $$1200 - $350 = $850$

HOME allows the recipient to use the maximum project-based rent limit in this situation instead of the Low HOME rent limit ($1200 instead of $750)

- The recipient must use the HOME program rents if project-based rental assistance is for a High HOME unit or a household that is above 50% AMI.

C. Calculating Rent

- Determine which AMI% level the household fits into based on the development's application.
- Determine the utility allowance for the unit based on bedroom size.
- Determine the amount, if any, that the household will be receiving in tenant-based rental assistance.
- Determine if the development receives federal or state project-based rental assistance.
- Determine the total maximum allowable rent.
- Maximum allowable rent equals the applicable HOME rent limit (based on the AMI level) minus the utility allowance minus other rental assistance and any non-optional fees

Example 1:

Household Size: 3 persons
Annual Income: $26,350
AMI: 56%

Maximum 3-bedroom HOME Rent (60% Unit): $554
Utility Allowance: $80
Section 8 Assistance (tenant-based): $50
Maximum Tenant Rent: $424 ($554-$80-$50)

Example 2:

Household Size: 3 persons
Annual Income: $26,350
AMI: 56%

Maximum 3-bedroom HOME Rent (60% Unit): $554
Utility Allowance: $0 (recipient pays all utilities)
Section 8 Assistance (tenant-based): $0
Maximum Tenant Rent: $554

Example 3:

This example is different in that the development receives federal or state project-based rental assistance and all tenants at or below 50% AMI pay no more than 30% of their adjusted income for rent. Therefore, the maximum rent may be the rent allowable under the project-based subsidy program, 24 CFR, Part 92.252(b)(2).

Household Size: 4 persons
Annual Income: $25,000
AMI: 42%

Maximum 3-bedroom HOME Rent (50% Unit): $541
Maximum rent allowed by rental subsidy program: $600
Utility Allowance: $0 (recipient pays all utilities)
Section 8 Assistance: $50

Maximum Tenant Rent: $550 ($600 less $50)
The tenant contribution can be $550 (even though this exceeds the maximum applicable HOME rent limit).

D. Adjusting Rents due to Tenant Income Increases

When household income changes, the recipient/management may raise rents to the applicable rent limit, but are not obligated to do so until the AMI level of the household exceeds 80%. Once the household income exceeds 80% AMI, the household must be charged 30% of its adjusted income for rent.

The following chart outlines the maximum rents that tenants can be charged for developments that are either funded only with the HOME/CDBG/CDBG-D program or that are funded in conjunction with Section 42 Rental Housing Tax Credits (a.k.a. Low Income Housing Tax Credits).

Table 1: HOME/CDBG/CDBG-D only

AMI level	HOME “fixed”	HOME “floating”
30% Units	Rent may not exceed 30% Rent Limit	Rent may not exceed 30% Rent Limit
40% Units	Rent may not exceed 40% Rent Limit	Rent may not exceed 40% Rent Limit
50% Units	Rent may not exceed 50% Rent Limit	Rent may not exceed 50% Rent Limit
60% Units	Rent may not exceed 60% Rent Limit	Rent may not exceed 60% Rent Limit
60 – 80% Units	Rent may not exceed 60% Rent Limit	Rent may not exceed 60% Rent Limit
Above 80% Units	30% of adjusted household income.	30% of adjusted household income not to exceed market rent for a comparable unit in the area.

AMI level	HOME/RHTC
30% Units	Lesser of the 30% HOME Rent Limit or the RHTC Rent Limit
40% Units	Lesser of the 40% HOME Rent Limit or the RHTC Rent Limit
50% Units	Lesser of the 50% HOME Rent Limit or the RHTC Rent Limit
60% Units	Lesser of the 60% HOME Rent Limit or the RHTC Rent Limit
60 – 80% Units	Lesser of the 60% HOME Rent Limit or the RHTC Rent Limit
Above 80% Units	If a household’s income increases above the 80% income limit and the unit has both HOME and RHTC, the applicable RHTC limit will apply. The household is not considered an over-income unit until the tenant income reaches 140% of the tax credit Federal Minimum Set-Aside for the development.

Note: Households must be given at least thirty (30) days notice prior to any increase in rent.

E. Allowable Fees and Charges

1. General Rule

Customary fees that are normally charged to all tenants, such as damage (security) deposits, pet deposits/fees, application fees and/or credit deposits are permissible. However, an eligible tenant cannot be charged a fee for the work involved in completing the additional forms of documentation required by the HOME, CDBG, and/or CDBG-D, program, such as the Tenant Income Certification and income/asset verification documents.

2. Condition of Occupancy Rule (Optional Vs. Non-optional Fees)

Any fee that is charged for a service that is a condition of occupancy (i.e. a fee for a service that is non-optional or mandatory) must be included in the gross rent computation when checking rent against the applicable rent limit. Assuming they are truly optional, fees may be charged for elected services or additional amenities (such as pet fees, fees for extra storage units, etc.) and these fees would not be included in the gross rent calculation. A service or amenity is considered optional if a tenant may opt out of the service or amenity without penalty and continue to live at the development.

Additionally, any services the tenant pays for that are provided by the development (whether optional or non-optional) must be listed in the tenant’s lease with the cost of each individual service clearly listed.

Example: Charges for paying with credit/debit card

Some developments may have a credit/debit card machine onsite to allow tenants to pay rent in this method. The monthly fee incurred from having a machine onsite can be passed onto the tenants as long as it is an optional fee. The fee would be considered optional if the tenants have alternative methods of paying rent that do not include a fee (e.g. cash, money order, check, etc.). In this scenario, the credit/debit machine would be an optional service offered for the tenants’ convenience. The amount of the fee for paying with credit/debit card, as well as a list of all accepted alternative methods of payment, must be disclosed to all tenants. Furthermore, the fee may not surpass the actual cost incurred from the machine. Management must keep documents showing the actual costs of having the machine onsite and the amount of the fee being charged to tenants.

If credit/debit card is the only means of paying monthly rent, then the fee is not optional, but rather a condition of occupancy (as paying rent is a condition of occupancy). In this case, the credit/debit card machine fees would have to be included as part of the gross monthly rent calculation.

3. Application Processing Fees

Application fees may be charged to cover the actual cost of processing the application and checking criminal history, credit history, landlord references, etc. However, the fee cannot exceed the amount of actual out-of-pocket costs incurred by management. No amount may be charged in excess of the average expected out-of-pocket cost of processing an application.

4. Mandatory Renter's Insurance

If renter's insurance is required as a condition of occupancy, then the amount of renter's insurance must be included in the gross rent calculation. In this scenario, the recipient must obtain an estimate similar to creating a utility allowance, in which the average rates are compared for at least three (3) of the primary insurance providers in the area. The annual estimate for renter's insurance should be divided by twelve (12) to reach a monthly estimate. The monthly renter's insurance allowance estimate must be added to the tenant-paid rent portion, the utility allowance, and any other non-optional fees when calculating gross rent.

IHCDA strongly recommends that recipients do not mandate renter's insurance. Rather, recipients should include clear language in the lease explaining that the property is not responsible for damage to the household's belongings and recommending that tenants seek out renter's insurance as they see fit.

5. Prohibited Fees

The following fees may not be charged, regardless of whether or not they are included in the gross rent calculation:

- a. Fees for work involved in completing the Tenant Income Certification and other program specific documentation.
- b. Fees for preparing a unit for occupancy. The recipient is responsible for maintaining all units in a manner suitable for occupancy at all times. If a tenant is to be charged decorating, cleaning, or repair fees, the recipient must document the file with photos of the damage to prove that the unit is in condition beyond normal expected wear and tear. Charges cannot exceed the amount actually spent on repair. IHCDA will expect to see documentation in the tenant file as to the nature of the damage, including photos and receipts for the repair work.
- c. Fees for the use of facilities and amenities. For example, a recipient may not charge a tenant for the use of a clubhouse, swimming pool, parking areas, etc. Additionally, tenants may not be charged a deposit for the use of common areas. However, if the facilities are damaged, the responsible tenant(s) may be charged fees in accordance with Item 6-b above.

F. Section 8 Rental Assistance

For tenants residing in units with project-based Section 8, the current 50059 showing the amount of rental assistance must be included in the file. For tenants residing in units with tenant-based Section 8, the original HAP contract and all HAP amendments must be included in the file.

(See Part 3.2 A for information on calculating rent limits with tenant-based rental assistance and Part 3.2 B for information on calculating rent limits with project-based rental assistance.)

Part 3.3 Utility Allowances

A. General Information

The maximum gross rent includes the amount of tenant paid utilities. Utilities include heat, electric, water, sewer, oil, gas, and trash, where applicable. Utilities do not include telephone, cable television, or internet.

When utilities are paid directly by the tenant (as opposed to the award), a utility allowance must be used to determine maximum eligible unit rent. To qualify as part of the utility allowance, the cost of any utility (other than telephone, cable television, or internet) must be paid directly by the tenant(s), and not by or through the recipient of the building. If the recipient or a third party separately bills the tenant for a utility, the payment designated for the utility must be considered rent and may not be included in the utility allowance. The utility allowance (for utility costs paid by the tenant) must be subtracted from the maximum gross-rent to determine the maximum amount of allowable tenant-paid rent.

For example:

If the maximum gross rent on a unit is $350 and the tenant pays utilities with a Utility Allowance of $66 per month, the maximum rent chargeable to the tenant is $284 ($350 minus $66).

B. Approved Utility Allowance Sources

If all utilities are included in the household's gross rent payment, no utility allowance is required. The following list contains the different sources of utility allowances for program units:

- 1) Rural Development Financed Developments: Use the applicable Rural Development utility allowances.
- 2) HUD Development Based Subsidy Regulated Buildings (Project Based Rental Assistance): Use the applicable HUD approved utility allowances.
- 3) HUD Assisted Units (Tenant Based Rental Assistance): For those individual units occupied by residents who receive HUD tenant based rental assistance, use the applicable HUD Utility Allowance as given by the Public Housing Authority (PHA) administering the assistance.
- 4) Buildings without Rural Development or HUD assistance: Buildings without RD or HUD assistance may use any of the following utility allowance options:
  - Use the applicable local PHA utility allowance; or
  - Use the county specific utility allowance schedule from IHCD's website; or
  - Utility company estimate: An interested party may request the utility company estimation of actual utility consumption for each unit of similar size and construction in the building's geographic area. Such an estimate must be in writing, signed by an appropriate local utility company official, prepared on the utility company's letterhead, and maintained in the project's file.
- 5) IHCDA Estimate: Upon request, IHCD will approve a utility allowance estimate for a development. Requests for an IHCD Estimate must be made via the "IHCD Utility Allowance Estimate Request Letter" (available in Appendix E). Along with the request letter, the recipient must complete and submit the "IHCD Tenant Usage Data Form" (available in Appendix E). This usage data form must include information for 30% (rounded up) of the units of each unit type (flat or townhome) for each bedroom size. (Note: There are two separate usage data forms for flats and townhomes). The usage data must contain a full twelve (12) months of consumption. To be included in the estimate, a unit must have at least forty-four (44) weeks of continuous consumption data (i.e. the unit cannot have been vacant for more than 8 weeks of the year). The consumption data can be no more than sixty (60) days old. Additionally, the recipient must submit verification of the tax rate for the county in which the development is located.

Example: A development has 48 total low income units with 20 one bedroom units and 28 two bedroom units. The sample must include 30% of the one bedroom units (6 units) and 30% of the two bedroom units (9 units rounded up to 8.4)).

For new construction developments or renovated buildings with less than twelve (12) months of consumption data available, IHCDCA will allow consumption data for the twelve (12) month period of units of similar size and construction in the geographic area in which the new development is located. The existing development that will be used for the comparison must be located in the state of Indiana and must be in the same climate zone as the development for which the estimate is being done. Please reference the Climate Zone Map in Appendix E. Once the project achieves 90% occupancy for ninety (90) consecutive days, the recipient is required to resubmit usage data to IHCDCA using the actual units in the development.

The request must be made sixty (60) days prior to the expiration date of the current effective utility allowance. The fee for IHCDCA to review and approve the model is $75 per development. Once IHCDCA approves the estimate, the utility allowance(s) will be effective for one year from the date stated on the IHCDCA Approved Utility Allowance Estimate letter.

Note: Developments with non-corrected issues will not be eligible to use this option until the outstanding issues have been corrected.

- 6) HUD Utility Schedule Model: The Recipient may calculate Utility Allowances using the HUD Utility Model found at <http://www.huduser.org/resources/utimodel.html>. Both the Model and the supporting documentation used in the model must be submitted to IHCDCA for approval prior to implementation. The request must be made 60 days prior to the 90-day expiration date of the current effective utility allowance. Once approved, the utility allowance(s) will be good for one year from the date of IHCDCA approval. The fee for IHCDCA to review the model is $75 per development.

Note: Developments with non-corrected issues will not be eligible to use this option until the outstanding issues have been corrected.

- 7) Energy Consumption Model: The recipient may use an independent licensed engineer or qualified professional approved by IHCDCA to calculate an energy consumption model. A list of approved engineers/professionals will be maintained on IHCDCA's website. The qualified professional and the building recipient must not be related as defined in Section 267(b) or 707(b). To become IHCDCA approved, the engineer/ qualified professional must submit the "Approved Energy Consumption Provider Application" (available in Appendix E).

The consumption estimate must take into effect the types of appliances, building location, building orientation, design and materials, mechanical systems, and unit size. Usage data must include information for 30% (rounded up) of the units of each unit type (flat or townhome) for each bedroom size. The usage data must contain a full twelve (12 months) of consumption. To be included in the estimate, a unit must have at least forty-four (44) weeks of continuous consumption data (i.e. the unit cannot have been vacant for more than 8 weeks of the year). The consumption data can be no more than sixty (60) days old. Additionally, the recipient must submit verification of the tax rate for the county in which the development is located.

For new construction developments or renovated buildings with less than twelve (12) months of consumption data available, IHCDCA will allow consumption data for the twelve (12) month period of units of similar size and construction in the geographic area in which the new development is located. The existing development that will be used for the comparison must be located in the state of Indiana and must be in the same climate zone as the development for which the estimate is being done. Please reference the Climate Zone Map online in Appendix E. Once the project achieves 90% occupancy for ninety (90) consecutive days, the recipient is required to resubmit usage data to IHCDCA using the actual units in the development.

The model and supporting documentation must be submitted to IHCDCA for approval prior to implementation, along with the "IHCDCA Energy Consumption Approval Request" letter (available online in Appendix E). The request must be made sixty

(60) days prior to the expiration date of the current effective Utility Allowance. Once approved, the utility allowance(s) will be good for one year from the date of IHCD approval. The fee for IHCD to review the model is $75 per development.

Note: Developments with non-corrected issues will not be eligible to use this option until the outstanding issues have been corrected.

The recipient must use the most current applicable utility allowance and provide documentation annually. Recipients may combine utility allowances from different sources to benefit the development. When using multiple utility allowance sources for different utilities, the recipient must clearly document which source is being used for each utility type. Furthermore, the recipient may elect to change the utility allowance type from year to year. However, utility company estimates must be used for the current year once they have been requested. Contact the appropriate agency or department to request current utility allowance information.

C. Updating Utility Allowances

To remain in compliance, recipients must utilize the correct and most current utility allowance in order to properly determine unit rents. An increase in the utility allowance will increase the gross rent and may cause the rent to be greater than the maximum allowable rent, in which case the tenant-paid rent portion must be lowered. When a utility allowance changes, rents must be refigured within ninety (90) days of the effective date of the change. Utility allowances need to be reviewed and updated as follows:

- When the rents for a development or building are changed or there is a change in who pays the utilities;
- Within ninety (90) days of an allowance update by IHCD, HUD, Rural Development, the local PHA, or local utility supplier;
- Within ninety (90) days of a change in the applicable allowance (e.g., a tenant begins receiving Section 8 rental assistance and the applicable PHA approved utility allowance must now be used for that unit);
- Annually for developments or buildings with documentation from a local utility supplier. Developments must provide documentation supporting the use and applicability of local utility allowances; and/or
- Within ninety (90) days of the effective date of the IHCD Estimate, HUD Utility Schedule Model, or Energy Consumption Model.

Part 3.4 Rules Governing the Eligibility of Particular Tenants and Uses

A. Vacant Units

Vacant units formerly occupied by low-income household may continue to be treated as occupied by a qualified low-income household for purposes of the set-aside requirements, provided that reasonable attempts were or are being made to rent the unit. Management must document that reasonable attempts are being made to rent vacant units to qualified households.

B. Household Composition

When determining household size for purposes of implementing the correct income limits, the recipient/management should never include the following members: live-in aides, foster children and adults, and guests (See Part 3.4 D for information on live-in aides and Part 3.4 F for information on foster children and adults).

The household has the right to decide whether or not to include individuals permanently confined to a hospital or nursing home as a household member. If the individual is included as a household member, his/her income must be certified and included.

Military members away on active duty are only counted as household members if they are the head, spouse, or co-head or if they leave behind a spouse or dependent child in the unit.

All other individuals, including temporarily absent family members (e.g. dependents away at school, etc.) and children in joint custody agreements that are in the unit at least 50% of the time, should be included in household size for purposes of determining the applicable income limit.

Household composition may change after the initial tenant(s) moves into a unit. However, at the time of application an applicant should be asked if there are any expected changes in household composition during the next twelve (12) months. If so, the composition change and any subsequent changes in estimated income should be reflected on the initial Tenant Income Certification.

C. Unborn Children and Child Custody

A recipient cannot count an unborn child when determining household size and applicable income limits.

Additionally, when determining household size, recipients should include children subject to a joint custody agreement, if such children live in the unit at least 50% of the time. However, a child may not be counted in more than one program unit for household size.

D. Live-in Care Attendants

A live-in care attendant (a.k.a. a live-in aide) is a person who resides with one or more elderly, near-elderly, or disabled persons. To qualify as a live-in care attendant, the individual (a) must be determined to be essential to the care and well being of the tenant, (b) must not be financially obligated to support the tenant, and (c) must certify that he/she would not be living in the unit except to provide the necessary supportive services. While some family members may qualify, spouses can never be considered a live-in care attendant since they would not meet qualifications (b) or (c). Additionally, the live-in aide cannot move a spouse, child, or other member into the unit, as doing so would indicate that the aide is living in the unit for reasons other than the care of the tenant.

A live-in care attendant should not be counted as a household member for purposes of determining the applicable income limits, and the income of the attendant is not counted as part of the total household income. The need for a live-in care attendant must be certified with documentation from a medical professional (e.g. a letter from the tenant's doctor) and included in the tenant file. If the qualified tenant vacates the unit, the attendant must vacate as well. If an attendant would like to be certified as a qualified tenant and remain in the unit, normal certification procedures must be performed and the individual must meet the applicable eligibility requirements of the program.

While the live-in care attendant is not considered a household member, he/she is still subject to criminal background checks (as per the tenant selection criteria effective at the property) and must comply with tenant house rules. A recipient may deny a live-in care attendant that does not pass criminal background checks or evict an attendant who exhibits behavior that is disruptive, illegal, or endangering to other tenants, as defined in the tenant selection criteria and lease.

E. Foster Children/Adults

Foster children and adults living in a unit are not considered household members for purposes of determining income limits. Furthermore, the full amount of income a household receives for the care of foster children and adults is excluded from the calculation of total household income.

However, HUD Handbook 4350.3 Change 3 clarifies that the earned and unearned income received by foster adults, and the unearned income received by foster children, must be included in the calculation of total household income, even though those individuals are not considered members of the household when determining household size and the applicable income limit.

F. Special Needs Populations

The recipient may have committed in writing to set aside a percentage of total units to qualified tenants who meet the State's definition of "special needs population" (as provided in IC 5-20-1-.45) and must equip each unit to meet a particular person's need at no cost to the tenant. Special needs populations include:

1. Persons with physical or development disabilities
2. Persons with mental impairments
3. Single parent households
4. Victims of domestic violence
5. Abused children
6. Persons with chemical addictions
7. Homeless persons
8. The elderly

Required Documentation:

1). The development and a qualified organization that provides and has the capacity to carry out services for the special needs population must enter into an agreement (signed by all parties) acceptable to the Authority in its sole discretion whereby the recipient agrees to: (a) set aside a number of units for the special needs population and (b) notify the qualified organization when vacancies of the set-aside units occur at the development. The qualified organization must agree to: (a) refer qualified households to the development and (b) notify households of the vacancies of the set-aside units at the development. This is called the "referral agreement."

The development may enter into multiple referral agreements throughout the Affordability Period. Furthermore, referral agreements may expire or terminate, as long as at least one active referral agreement with a qualified service provider is in place at all times. IHCD encourages developments to annually evaluate the affordability and demographic demands of the special needs population in their market area in order to identify potential qualified entities that may provide additional referrals.

2). The resume of the organization providing services for the special needs population (resume must demonstrate ability to provide services).

3). The files of those tenants who qualify as a special needs population must include documentation to show that the unit is meeting the special needs set-aside. For those tenants referred to the development by the qualified service organization, a copy of the referral should be placed in the file. For special needs tenants who were not referred to the development by the qualified organization, the tenant should self-certify that he/she meets the definition of special needs population. However, management may not inquire into the specific nature of the special need (for example, management cannot ask the tenant details about their disability).

4). When reporting tenant events through the Indiana Housing Online Management website, the recipient/management must designate which units meet the special needs population set-aside.

G. Elderly Housing

The Fair Housing Act and The Housing for Older Persons Act of 1995 (HOPA) exempt certain types of "housing for older persons" from the Act's prohibitions against discrimination because of familial status.

Therefore, projects may be designated as housing for the elderly (as defined in the project's Final Application and Declaration of Extended Rental Housing Commitment) in one of the following ways and not be in violation of Fair Housing:

1. 100% of the units are restricted for households in which all members are age 62 or older; or
2. At least 80% of the units are restricted for households in which at least one member is age 55 or older. The remaining 20% of the units may also be restricted for households in which at least one member is 55 or older, may have a lower age restriction, or may be left open without any age restrictions. This determination is left up to the recipient. The policy elected by the recipient in regards to the remaining 20% of the units must be instituted equally for all applicants and must be placed in writing as part of the development's Tenant Selection Criteria Policy.

HUD has noted that phrases such as "adult living," "adult community," or similar statements should not be used to market developments that fall under the 80% at 55 requirements. Rather, the property should be more specifically advertised as senior housing for households in which at least one household member is 55 years of age or older. Moreover, the development may not evict or terminate the leases of families with children or other individuals under the age of 55 in order to achieve the elderly occupancy requirements on the 80% of the units.

For more information on the 80% at 55 restriction, See "Implementation of the Housing for Older Persons Act of 1995; Final Rule" located in the Federal Register, Vol. 64 No. 63 from April 2, 1999. This document is included in Appendix H.

A project's elderly restrictions should be clearly defined in the project's Application and Declaration/Lien, and the recipient should follow the restrictions defined therein. If a project receives other federal funding, such as Section 8 or RD, the recipient should check those regulations for other potential elderly housing guidelines. Units in HUD and RD elderly housing generally can be occupied by households that meet the age requirements or that are disabled. Disabled household do not qualify for elderly restricted units in HOME/CDBG/CDBG-D housing unless they also meet the age restrictions.

Part 3.5 Fair Housing, General Public Use, and Tenant Selection Criteria

A. Fair Housing: Protected Classes and Affirmative Marketing

The recipient or agents of the recipient shall not discriminate in the provision of housing on the basis of race, color, sex, national origin, religion, familial status, or disability [the seven (7) protected classes under the Fair Housing Act].

Nondiscrimination means that recipients cannot refuse to rent a unit, provide different selection criteria, fail to allow reasonable accommodations or modifications, evict, or otherwise treat a tenant or applicant in a discriminatory way based solely on that person's inclusion in a protected class. Recipients may not engage in steering, segregation, false denial of availability, or discriminatory advertising.

Upon project entry, households living in program units must be given the Fair Housing brochure entitled "You May Be a Victim Of." The household must sign documentation acknowledging the receipt of this brochure at time of move-in, and this receipt must be maintained in the household's file. Additionally, all recipients are required to post the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity poster onsite in the leasing office and/or other common area.

All projects with five (5) or more HOME assisted-units must have an Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan (AFHMP) and a copy of the approved plan must be submitted to IHCD prior to release of funds. In addition, Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must be evaluated at least once every five (5) years and updated according to the policies of the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). All updated Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must also be submitted to IHCD. See Part 2.2 L for more information.

All CDBG or CDBG-D projects must follow actions to affirmatively further fair housing. See Part 2.2 M for more information.

All recipients, managers, and staff members should be familiar with both state and federal civil rights and fair housing laws. IHCD strongly encourages recipients and management companies to provide Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity training for all staff, including maintenance staff, associated with any property. Staff should attend a Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity training at least once every calendar year.

IHCD has established procedures for processing Fair Housing complaints made to IHCD. The procedures are as follows: 1) IHCD will forward all written Fair Housing complaints to the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Office at HUD and also to the Indiana Civil Rights Commission and 2) IHCD will notify the recipient and management company of such complaint.

B. Fair Housing: Reasonable Accommodations and Modifications

A reasonable accommodation is a change, exception, or adjustment in rules, policies, practices, or services when such a change is necessary to afford a person with a disability the equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, including public and common spaces. Per the Fair Housing Act, a recipient must allow a reasonable accommodation unless doing so will be an undue financial burden or fundamentally alter the nature of the provider's operations. For more information on reasonable accommodation, refer to the HUD and Department of Justice (DOJ) Joint Statement "Reasonable Accommodations Under the Fair Housing Act" released May 17, 2004 (available in Appendix H).

A reasonable modification is a change to the physical structure of the premises when such a change is necessary to afford a person with a disability the equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, including public and common spaces. Per the Fair Housing Act, a recipient must allow a reasonable modification at the expense of the tenant. However, if the changes needed by the tenant are ones that should have already been included in the unit or common space in order to comply with design and construction accessibility standards, then the recipient will be responsible for paying for the modifications. For more information on reasonable modification, refer to the HUD and Department of Justice (DOJ) Joint Statement "Reasonable Modifications Under the Fair Housing Act" released March 5, 2008 (available in Appendix H).

C. General Public Use

Under IHCD requirements, low-income units must be available for use by the general public. Recipients are allowed to establish preferences for certain population groups (e.g. homeless individuals, persons with disabilities, the elderly, etc.). These preferences, however, must not violate HUD's anti-discrimination policies.

In addition, if a residential rental unit is provided only for a member of a social organization or provided by an employer for its employees, the unit is not for use by the general public and is not eligible for funding.

Furthermore, recipients cannot refuse to accept a prospective tenant based solely on the fact that he or she holds a Section 8 rental voucher or certificate.

D. General Occupancy Guidelines/ Household Size

IHCD does not impose any requirements governing minimum or maximum household size for a particular unit or rules on when children are no longer able to share bedrooms. However, recipients must comply with any applicable local laws, regulations, and/or financing requirements (e.g. if Rural Development, use RD regulations). IHCD advises all recipients or agents to be consistent when accepting or rejecting applications. Occupancy guidelines or requirements should be incorporated into the development's management plan. Management should be aware of occupancy standards set by federal, state, HUD, PHA, civil rights laws, tenant/landlord laws, and municipal code that may establish a maximum or minimum number of persons per unit.

(For guidance on determining household size, see Part 3.4 B)

E. Tenant Selection Criteria

There are no federal, state, or IHCD regulations regarding criminal or credit background checks, landlord references, or a minimum income necessary for occupancy. Implementation of these criteria is entirely up to recipient/management discretion, so long as the screening criteria are applied equally to all applicants.

Additionally, there are no current regulations governing citizenship requirements for assisted-units. Since the Fair Housing Act does not prohibit discrimination based solely on citizenship status, recipients may ask applicants to provide documentation of citizenship or immigration status as part of the screening process. If the recipient chooses to implement such a policy, the screening criteria must be established in writing and applied in a uniform, nondiscriminatory fashion. Recipients should be aware that other housing programs (such as Section 8, other HUD programs, or RD programs) may have stricter citizenship requirements that must be followed if the project has additional funding sources.

Because many of these tenant selection criteria are left up to the discretion of the recipient, it is important for each development to have an established Tenant Selection Criteria Policy in writing. This document should be made available to all applicants and tenants.

At a minimum, a good Tenant Selection Criteria Policy should include the following:

- Occupancy standards in effect (how many tenants can live in a unit based on size of the unit);
- Program eligibility factors, including income limits;
- Any minimum income requirements imposed by management;
- Any citizenship requirements imposed by management;
- Specifics on the information that is analyzed when performing credit checks, criminal background checks, and previous landlord references. Management should clearly spell out what findings constitute a rejection of application (e.g. do certain criminal charges or a certain credit score automatically disqualify the household?);
- Explanation of the application and waiting list process, including the process through which a tenant can appeal a rejection decision;
- Explanation of the transfer policies in effect;
- Breakdown of any special preferences set aside at the project (e.g. units reserved for special needs populations or an elderly restriction on the project); and
- List of any other relevant items used in considering the household's eligibility for occupancy

When creating a development's Tenant Selection Criteria Policy, the recipient must be careful to follow all applicable eligibility regulations, Fair Housing regulations, and local occupancy standards.

With the exception of accessible units (see Part G below), all units should be leased on a first-come first-served basis with tenants selected in date order from the waiting list.

F. Marketing Accessible Units

At initial lease-up, accessible units should be marketed to persons with disabilities requiring an accessible unit. For ongoing leasing, the following order should be followed for marketing the accessible units:

1. First offer accessible units to existing occupants that require accessibility features but are currently occupying a unit that does not offer such features.
2. Next offer accessible units to qualified applicants on the waiting list that require accessibility features.
3. Market the unit to attract new disabled applicants.
4. Finally, offer the unit to a non-disabled person on the waiting list. If this is done, the tenant should understand that he or she may later be asked to transfer to another comparable but non-accessible unit if the accessible unit is needed by a disabled person. While the tenant may have to transfer if there is a vacant unit, he or she would not be evicted or otherwise terminated to make room for a disabled household. This agreement should be incorporated into the lease.

Part 3.6 HOME-assisted Units in Tax Credit Developments

A Section 42 rental housing tax credit development (RHTC) may also receive HOME funds, resulting in a certain number of units reserved as both tax credit and HOME-assisted units. Units that are both RHTC and HOME-assisted must follow the compliance rules of both programs. As a general rule of thumb, when program compliance regulations differ, the recipient should follow the stricter of the two.

The following is a sampling of common issues management may face when combining tax credits with HOME funding. This is not meant as an exhaustive listing. For more information on IHCD's RHTC compliance regulations, please refer to the Indiana Rental Housing Tax Credit Compliance Manual.

A. RHTC with HOME: Rent and Income Limits

1. HOME and RHTC rent and income limits may be different within the same county for the same year. IHCD releases a separate set of limits for each program. For a unit under both programs, the stricter of the two sets of limits should be used (generally the HOME limits are lower and are thus the stricter).
2. Section 42 does not include rental assistance in the gross rent calculation. For HOME-assisted units, tenant-based rental assistance is included in the gross rent calculation. For purposes of determining whether a HOME-assisted unit is in compliance with the rent limits, the sum of the tenant-paid rent portion + tenant-based rental assistance + utility allowance + non-optional fees must be at or below the applicable HOME rent limit.

B. RHTC with HOME: Certifications and Verifications

1. 100% tax credit projects do not have to perform annual income recertifications. However, those units that are also HOME-assisted must have a full annual recertification to comply with IHCD's HOME program requirements.
2. The tax credit program allows household self-certification for assets if the total combined value of assets is less than or equal to $5000. HOME requires that all assets be third-party verified, so the "Under $5000 Assets Affidavit" cannot be used to satisfy the verification requirements on HOME-assisted units.
3. In the HOME program, verifications are valid for six (6) months. For Section 42, verifications are only valid for 120 days. Therefore, for units subject to both programs, use the stricter tax credit rule and make sure that all verification documents are no older than 120 days as of the effective date of the certification.
4. HOME has stricter income verification requirements when second-party verification is used. If paystubs are used instead of third-party employment verification, the amount of paystubs obtained must amount to a full three (3) months of consecutive pay. If tax returns are used instead of third-party verification, the tax return must be a certified copy obtained by completing IRS Form 4506 “Request for Copy of Tax Return.” For units subject to both programs, apply the stricter HOME verification requirements.

C. RHTC with HOME: Household Size and Eligibility

1. Section 42 includes unborn children when determining household size for purposes of determining the applicable income limits. However, HOME does not allow unborn children to be included as household members. If a household with an unborn child applies for a unit that is both tax credit and HOME-assisted, management must demonstrate that the household is income eligible under both programs.
2. The HOME program does not limit occupancy by full-time students. However, for HOME-assisted RHTC units, the tax credit full-time student rules apply.

D. RHTC with HOME: Fair Housing and Lead Based Paint Requirements

1. Upon project entry, households living in assisted units must be given the Fair Housing brochure entitled “You May Be a Victim Of.” Households living in assisted units built prior to 1978 must be given the Lead Based Paint brochure entitled “Protect Your Family from Lead in Your Home.” The household must sign documentation acknowledging the receipt of these brochures at time of move-in. Although this is not a requirement of Section 42, all HOME-assisted units in a tax credit development should have a signed copy of the acknowledgement located in the tenant file.
2. Any tax credit development with five (5) or more HOME units must follow Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing procedures. The recipient must study the local market to determine the populations that are least likely to apply for housing, and then develop a plan to make sure that marketing efforts are reaching out to these groups. The recipient should evaluate the development’s Affirmative Marketing plan at least once every five (5) years and update the plan if necessary. See Part 2.2 L for more information on Affirmative Marketing.

E. RHTC with HOME: IHCD Audits

A development with tax credits and IHCD HOME funds will be audited by IHCD for each program. The tax credit file monitoring will occur once every three (3) years (see Part 5.6 of the Indiana Rental Housing Tax Credit Compliance Manual for an explanation of the tax credit monitoring cycle).

Additionally, the HOME units will be audited according to the following schedule:

- If 1-4 HOME units in the development: once every three (3) years
- If 5-25 HOME units in the development: once every two (2) years
- If more than 25 HOME units in the development: annually

F. RHTC with HOME: Over-income Units

For tax credit purposes, a unit is not considered to be an over-income unit until the household income exceeds 140% of the federal minimum set-aside election. When this occurs, the 140% Rule or Next Available Unit Rule goes into effect. See Part 3.5 C for more information on the Next Available Unit Rule.

For HOME purposes, a unit is considered to be over-income (and therefore a temporarily noncompliant unit) when household income exceeds 80% of AMI. Under the HOME program, households that exceed 80% of AMI are charged 30% of adjusted income as rent and special rules go into effect to replace the over-income unit.

For units that are under both programs, the tax credit 140% rule overrides the HOME over-income rules and households are not considered over-income until they exceed 140% of the federal minimum set-aside election.

Note: Neither program permits eviction or termination of tenancy due to income increases, even if the household exceeds the 140% or 80% levels.

Part 3.7 Suitable for Occupancy

A. General Requirements and Recordkeeping

In addition to being rent and income restricted, all program units and buildings must be suitable for occupancy. Recipients must annually certify that all buildings and units in the project are decent, safe, and sanitary considering all applicable health, safety, and building codes. If any health, safety, or building code inspections result in a notice of violation, this must be reported. Original reports/notices of violations must be maintained as part of the recipient's recordkeeping and copies must be submitted to IHCD along with the Annual Owner Certification of Compliance.

Vacant units must also be suitable for occupancy and should not be cannibalized for parts. Because the recipient is responsible for maintaining all units in a manner that is suitable for occupancy at all times, the cost of preparing vacant units for occupancy cannot be passed on to tenants or applicants. During the inspection process, the IHCD inspector or contracted inspector may ask to inspect a mix of both occupied and vacant units.

B. Casualty Loss

A recipient that experiences a loss of unit/units due to fire, natural disaster, or other circumstance must:

- 1) Inform IHCD of the loss in writing within ten (10) days of the incident;
- 2) Submit a plan to IHCD within thirty (30) days that sets a timeframe for reconstruction or replacement of lost units;
- 3) Inform IHCD when the units have been reconstructed or replaced; and
- 4) If a recipient fails to report a casualty loss to IHCD within ten (10) days, the recipient and management company may be recommended for suspension from the program.

Casualty loss information must be reported via the "Casualty Loss Form" available online in Appendix F. The form should be mailed to:

Indiana Housing & Community Development Authority
ATTN: Multi-Family Inspector
30 S. Meridian St., Suite 1000
Indianapolis, IN 46204

Part 3.8 Program Income

A. CDBG/CDBG-D Program Income

CDBG regulation, 24 CFR 570.489, defines program income as the gross income received by a state, unit of local government, or a subrecipient that was generated from the use of CDBG funds. Program income includes, but is not limited to the following:

- Proceeds from the sale of CDBG or CDBG-D assisted housing;
- Proceeds from the disposition by sale or long-term lease of real property purchased or improved with CDBG or CDBG-D funds;
- Proceeds from the disposition of equipment purchased with CDBG or CDBG-D funds;

- Gross income from the use or rental of real or personal property acquired by the unit of general local government or a subrecipient of a unit of a local unit of government with CDBG or CDBG-D funds, less the costs incidental to the generation of income;
- Gross income from the use or rental of real property owned by the unit of general local government or a subrecipient of a unit of general local government, that was constructed or improved with CDBG or CDBG-D funds, less the costs incidental to the generation of income;
- Payments of principal and interest on loans made using CDBG or CDBG-D funds;
- Proceeds from the sale of loans made with CDBG or CDBG-D funds;
- Proceeds from the sale of obligations secured by loans made with CDBG or CDBG-D funds;
- Interest earned on funds held in a revolving fund account; and
- Interest earned on program income pending disposition of the income.

If Program Income is generated by an activity that was only partially assisted with CDBG or CDBG-D, the income shall be prorated to reflect the percentage of CDBG or CDBG-D funds used.

The following outlines the three methods in which CDBG or CDBG-D program income should be treated.

1. Program income that is generated when an entity has another open CDBG or CDBG-D award - the program income should be spent on the current award prior to drawing down additional funds from IHCD. Additionally, the maximum amount of CDBG or CDBG-D program income that may be expended on program delivery, administration, and environmental review is limited to twenty percent (20%) of the total receipt.
2. If an entity does not have an open award - program income amounting to less than $25,000 received during the local unit of government's fiscal year may be kept by the local unit of government and is not subject to the program income requirements.
3. If an entity does not have an open award - program income amounting too greater than or equal to $25,000 received during the local unit of government's fiscal year may not be kept by the local unit of government and must be returned to IHCD. However, under certain circumstances, IHCD may permit the LUG to establish a revolving loan fund for additional CDBG or CDBG-D-eligible activities. For further information on this issue, please contact your IHCD Real Estate Production Analyst.

B. HOME Program Income

HOME Program Income is gross income received by the participating jurisdiction (IHCD), state recipient (local unit of government) or an IHCD HOME subrecipient directly generated from the use of HOME funds or matching contributions.

Program Income does not include funds recaptured from a homebuyer who does not meet his affordability period or who is foreclosed upon. These funds are recaptured funds and must be returned to IHCD.

Income generated by CHDOs, not-for-profits, or for-profits acting as owners, sponsors or developers of HOME units are not considered program income.

When housing that generates program income is only partially assisted with HOME funds or matching funds, the income shall be prorated to reflect the percentage of HOME funds used. Program income includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- Proceeds from the disposition by sale or long-term lease of real property acquired, rehabilitated, or constructed with HOME funds or match contributions;
- Gross income from the use of rental of real property, owned by the participating jurisdiction, State recipient, or a subrecipient, that was acquired, rehabilitated, or constructed, with HOME funds or matching contributions, less costs incidental to generation of the income;
- Payments of principal and interest on loans made using HOME funds or matching contributions;
- Proceeds from the sale of loans made with HOME funds or matching contributions;
- Proceeds from the sale of obligations secured by loans made with HOME funds or matching contributions;
- Interest earned on program income pending its disposition; and

- Any other interest or return on the investment permitted under § 92.205(b) of the HOME funds or matching contribution.

The following outlines the four methods in which HOME program income should be treated.

1. Treatment by Local Unit of Government

Local units of government that receive HOME repayments during the affordability period must return the funds to the IHCD. However, if you have an open HOME award with the IHCD, you must use these funds prior to drawing additional funds from the IHCD. The funds must only be utilized on the following line items: new construction, rehabilitation, program delivery and demolition.

2. Treatment by Not for Profit or For Profit Not Acting as an Owner, Sponsor or Developer

Not-for-profit entities or for-profit entities that receive HOME repayments during the affordability period must return the funds to the IHCD. However, if you have an open award with IHCD, you must use these funds prior to drawing down additional funds from IHCD. The funds must only be utilized on the following line items: new construction, rehabilitation, program delivery and demolition.

3. Treatment by Not for Profit or For Profit Acting as an Owner Sponsor or Developer

Not for profit entities or for profit entities receiving payment back from homebuyers or rental tenants during the affordability period may keep these funds and the funds must be utilized for housing activities that benefit low-income families as provided in the IHCD HOME Investment Partnerships Program Application.

4. Treatment by a CHDO

CHDOs receiving payment back during the affordability period may retain these funds. The funds must be utilized for housing activities that benefit low-income families as provided in 24 CFR 92.300(a)(2).

However, if at any time during the affordability period, the CHDO becomes decertified or no longer has a mission of providing affordable housing then all CHDO proceeds must immediately be remitted to IHCD. Please contact your Compliance Monitor for further assistance in this area.

Section 4: Qualifying Tenants for Program Units

Potential tenants of low-income, rent-restricted units should be advised early in the application process that there are maximum income limits that apply to these units. Management should explain to potential tenants that the anticipated income of all persons expecting to occupy the unit must be verified prior to occupancy and then annually recertified for continued eligibility.

Federal HOME regulations allow various methods of calculating annual income. However, IHCD mandates that all recipients use the Section 8 methodology.

Determination of annual income of individuals and median gross income adjusted for household size must be made in a manner consistent with HUD Section 8 income definitions and guidelines. Chapter 5 of HUD Handbook 4350.3, Occupancy Requirements of Subsidized Multifamily Housing Programs and the HUD guidebook entitled Technical Guide to Determining Income and Allowances for the HOME Program should be consulted for complete information on calculating and verifying income and asset sources. Both resources are included in Appendix A.

Part 4.1 Tenant Qualification & Certification Process

A. Necessary Documentation for a Tenant File

Units are eligible for the program if proper documentation verifying the household's eligibility is placed in the household file. At a minimum, the following items must be located in the file and must be organized in chronological order for easy review:

1. Initial Tenant Application for residency;
2. Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire (see 4.2. below) completed for every year the household resides at the property, including certification of assets and disposal of assets if applicable. A separate Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire must be completed by each adult household member annually;
3. Tenant Income Certification (see 4.1 B below) signed by each adult member of the household for every year the household resides at the property. The TIC must have proper signature and effective dates clearly stated;
4. Verifications of all sources of earned and unearned income and of all asset sources noted on the Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire for all years
  - Third-party verifications are always the preferred method of verification
  - Source documentation can be used if third-party verification is impossible or delayed for more than two (2) weeks. When utilizing paystubs in lieu of third-party employment verification, the recipient must obtain the number of paystubs that covers three (3) consecutive months of payments for tenants that have steady employment, or records for a full twelve (12) month period for tenants that have sporadic or seasonal employment.
  - If utilizing tax returns as income verification, the recipient must obtain a certified copy by completing IRS Form 4506 "Request for Copy of Tax Form."
5. Any other documentation verifying the tenants' eligibility (i.e. joint custody of a child documentation, all management clarification documents, etc.);
6. Initial and subsequent leases and all lease addenda executed by the tenant and recipient;
7. Documentation of the receipt of the applicable brochures (Fair Housing & Lead Based Paint); and
8. For tenants receiving tenant-based Section 8 vouchers, a copy of the Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) Contract and the current HAP Amendment from the Section 8 agency showing the amount of rental assistance. For tenants in project-based Section 8 units, a copy of the current HUD Form 50059 showing the amount of rental assistance.

All documents included in the tenant file must be fully completed, signed, and dated. IHCD will not accept documents that are incomplete, that have been marked with correction fluids (i.e. whiteout), or where information has been obliterated with pen or marker. See 4.1 C below for information on how to properly correct documents in a tenant file.

B. Tenant Income Certification (TIC) Form

Every tenant file must contain a HOME Tenant Income Certification (TIC) form, regardless of whether or not that unit/tenant also has an income certification from another program in the file (e.g., HUD Form 50058/50059 or similar RD certification forms). The Tenant Income Certification form used for the HOME program includes information that is not found on these other forms, such as HOME income and rent limits, the HOME set-aside for the unit, the certification effective dates, etc. Therefore, properties that have multiple funding sources will need to have multiple signed tenant income certification forms in their files to demonstrate compliance with each separate program. Beginning January 1, 2012, IHCD's sample HOME TIC (Form #38 in Appendix B) is a mandatory form that must be used in all tenant files. IHCD will no longer accept any other TIC document, unless the TIC is submitted to IHCD and specifically approved.

The TIC must list the IHCD rent and income set-aside for the unit/household. Therefore, the rent and income restrictions should be listed as 30%, 40%, 50%, 60%, or 80%, not the actual AMI % of the household. For example, at time of move-in, a household may actually have income at 47% of AMI. IHCD does not need to know this, but rather only needs to know the set-aside the household qualifies under, in this case, either the 50%, 60%, or 80% limit.

C. Correcting Documents

To correct a document, management should draw one line through the erroneous information and write the corrected information to the side. All corrections should be dated and initialed. Corrections on forms filled out by the management should be initialed by the management agent. Corrections on forms filled out by the tenant should be initialed by the tenant. Corrections to the lease should be initialed by both parties.

If management fails to obtain the necessary paperwork at time of certification, verifications can be retroactively created to document the income and assets that were in place at the time of certification. All retroactive documents should be signed with the current date, but noted as being "true and correct statement" as of the actual certification effective date. The "true and correct statement" must be written on each form that is created or signed after the effective date. Neither tenants nor management are ever permitted to backdate documents. The recertification effective date continues on its regular annual cycle, not the date the documents were completed retroactively.

Example: Mrs. Smith is due for her annual recertification on December 20th. However, the property manager was distracted putting up holiday decorations and forgot to send out a recertification notice. Therefore, Mrs. Smith does not come in to the office to complete her paperwork until January 2nd. Mrs. Smith should sign all paperwork with the current date (January 2nd) but should make a note at the bottom of each form stating "information true and effective as of December 20th."

Part 4.2 Tenant Application & Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire

A fully completed Application and Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire is critical to an accurate determination of tenant eligibility. The information furnished on the Application and Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire should be used as a tool to determine all sources of income, including total assets and income from assets, and student status. Beginning in 2011, IHCD's HOME Program Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire form (Form # 39 in Appendix B) is a mandatory form that must be used in all tenant files. IHCD will no longer accept any other Questionnaire, unless the Questionnaire is submitted to IHCD and specifically approved.

The information furnished on the Application and Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire should be used as a tool to determine all sources of income (including total cash value of assets and income from assets), and household composition.

The revised HUD Handbook 4350.3 lists guidelines which the recipient may want to adopt for the application process. The application should include:

1. The name, age, social security number, relationship, handicap (if units are set-aside for such tenants and are part of the Award's Extended Use Agreement), and sex of each person that will occupy the unit (legal name should be given just as it will appear on the Lease and Tenant Income Certification);
2. All sources and amounts of current and anticipated annual income expected to be derived during the twelve-month certification period. Include assets now owned and indicate whether or not household members disposed of assets for less than Fair Market Value during the previous two years;
3. A screening process (i.e. previous landlords' credit information). Recipients should ask applicants whether the household's assistance or tenancy in a subsidized housing program has ever been terminated for fraud, nonpayment of rent, or failure to cooperate with re-certification procedures;
4. The signature of the applicant and the date the application was completed. It may be necessary to explain to the applicant that all information provided is considered confidential and will be handled accordingly; and
5. Collection of demographic data: IHCD requires the collection and reporting of the following information for all program tenants:
  - Race
  - Ethnicity
  - Sex
  - Family composition
  - Age
  - Income
  - Use of Section 8 (or similar) Rental Assistance Program
  - Disability Status; and
  - Monthly Rental Payment

This policy requires that recipients report this demographic data for all household members, not just the head of household. The recipient must report the demographic data for each household member when reporting tenant events online.

As an additional requirement of the review process, each recipient will be required to annually submit a compilation of this information through the Indiana Housing Online Management website as part of the Annual Owner Certification process. Failure to submit this information will be considered an act of noncompliance. For more information on Annual Recipient Certifications see Part 5.3.

Part 4.3 Tenant Income Verification

The income of every prospective occupant of the unit must be verified. All regular sources of income including income from assets must be verified. Verifications must be received by the management agent prior to move-in. Verifications must be from a third party and contain complete and detailed information and include, at a minimum, direct written Verification from all sources of regular income and income of assets.

A. Effective Term of Verification

Third party verifications of income are valid for 6 months prior to lease execution. After this time, if the tenant has not yet moved in, a new written third party verification must be obtained.

B. Methods of Verification

Three methods of verification are permitted:

- 1) Third Party Verification - Reasonable effort to obtain written third-party verification is required. IHCD does not require the recipient/management agent to use particular forms for third-party verifications; however, recommended sample third-party verification forms are included in Appendix B. All requests for income verification must:
  1. State the reason for the request;
  2. Include a release statement signed and dated by the prospective tenant;

3. Provide a section for the employer or other third-party source to state the applicant's current anticipated gross annual income or rate of pay, number of hours worked, and frequency of pay. Over-time hours, bonuses, tips, and commissions must be included. Spaces should also be available for a signature, job title, phone number, and date (if forms are returned with any information incomplete, management MUST complete clarification form to document incomplete information); and
4. Probability and effective date of any increase during the next twelve (12) months.
5. Recipients must send verification forms directly to the third party, not through the applicant.

Additionally, if third party verification is impossible to get from the third party or is delayed, the recipient may use information obtained electronically from e-mail or the internet. For example, a recipient may receive the fair market value of a house from an internet site that provides that information from the comparable real estate in the area.

Verbal Verification - When written verification is not possible prior to move-in, direct contact with the source will be acceptable to IHCD only as a last resort and should be followed by written verification. The conversation should be documented in the applicant's tenant file to include all information that would be contained in a written verification. The information must include the name, title, and phone number of the contact, the name of the on-site management representative accepting the information, and the date the information was obtained.

In addition, if the recipient receives third party verifications that are not clear or are not complete, a documented verbal clarification may be accepted if it includes the name and title of the contact, the name and signature of the on-site management representative accepting the information, and the date.

Furthermore, if after requesting third-party verification, the third party indicates that the information must be obtained from an automated telephone system, the recipient may document the information provided from the telephone system. The documentation must state the date the information is received, all of the information provided, and the name, signature, and title of the person receiving the information.

2) Second party verification & electronic verification - Recipients may use documents submitted by the applicant or tenant only if:

1. Information does not require third-party verification (such as birth certificates or adoption papers verifying household membership, divorce decrees, etc.); or
2. Third-party verification is impossible or delayed beyond two (2) weeks of the initial request. Recipients must show efforts (e.g. phone logs, fax receipts, certified mail receipts, etc.) to obtain the third party verifications before the use of second party verifications will be permitted.
3. There is a fee associated with receiving the third party verification. For example, if a bank will charge a fee for providing bank account information on a checking account, the recipient may verify the account by obtaining the most recent six months of bank statements from the tenant.

The recipient must be able to reasonably project expected income for the next twelve months from the second party verification. For example, if third party verification of employment income is impossible and efforts to obtain the third party verification have been made and delayed two (2) weeks, the recipient may obtain three consecutive months of paystubs from the tenant/applicant if the job provides steady employment. If employment is sporadic or seasonal, the recipient should obtain information that covers the entire previous twelve (12) month period . The recipient must place copies of the second party verifications and the efforts to obtain the third party verification in the tenant's file. If utilizing tax returns as income verification, the recipient must obtain a certified copy by completing IRS Form 4506 "Request for Copy of Tax Form."

If second-party verification must be used, the recipient is required to document the tenant file explaining the reason third-party verification could not be obtained and showing all efforts that were made to obtain third-party verification. Page 5-61 of the HUD Handbook 4350.3 states that the following documents should be placed in the tenant file:

- a) A written note to the file explaining why third-party verification is not possible; and/or
- b) A copy of the date-stamped original request that was sent to the third-party; and/or
- c) Written notes or documentation indicating follow-up efforts to reach the third-party to obtain verification; and/or

- d) A written note to the file indicating that the request has been outstanding without a response from the third-party.

The recipient must be able to reasonably project expected income for the next twelve (12) months from the second-party verification. For example, if third-party verification of employment income is impossible and efforts to obtain the third-party verification have been made and delayed two (2) weeks, the recipient may obtain the six (6) most current consecutive pay stubs from the tenant. The recipient must place copies of the second-party verifications and the efforts to obtain third-party verification in the tenant file.

When using pay stubs in lieu of third-party employment verification, or bank statements in lieu of third-party asset verification, the recipient must obtain the six (6) most recent consecutive stubs or statements.

- 3) Tenant Self-Certification - As a last resort, the recipient may accept a tenant's signed affidavit if third-party and second-party verifications cannot be obtained. The recipient should try to refrain from using self-affidavits except where absolutely necessary.

If a self-affidavit must be used to verify income or asset sources, the recipient is required to document the tenant file by explaining the reason third-party or second-party verification could not be obtained and showing all efforts that were made to obtain verification. Per Chapter 5 of the HUD Handbook 4350.3, the following documents should be placed in the tenant file:

- a) A written note to the file explaining why third-party verification is not possible; and/or
- b) A copy of the date-stamped original request that was sent to the third-party; and/or
- c) Written notes or documentation indicating follow-up efforts to reach the third-party to obtain verification; and/or
- d) A written note to the file indicating that the request has been outstanding without a response from the third-party; and/or
- e) A written note to the file explaining why second-party verification is not possible.

4) Public Housing Authority Verification & Income for Section 8 Recipients

In the case of a tenant receiving housing assistance payments under the Section 8 Program, the third-party income verification requirement is satisfied if the Public Housing Authority (PHA) provides a statement to the building recipient certifying that the household's income does not exceed the applicable HOME, CDBG, or CDBG-D income limit.

The only documents that will be acceptable from the Public Housing Authority are HUD Form 50058 or the IHCD approved Public Housing Authority Verification form in Appendix B (if provided by the local PHA). The form must be completed in its entirety by a qualified representative of the PHA and list the members of the household and the gross income of the household before any deductions that the household may be eligible for under the Section 8 Program. These forms will not be considered valid verifications if they are dated more than 120 days prior to the household's move-in date or recertification effective date.

Once the recipient receives the HUD Form 50058 or IHCD approved PHA form, no other verifications of income are required. However, verifications for other eligibility requirements such as the Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire and the Tenant Income Certification (TIC) form must still be completed and placed in the household's file. The 50058 or PHA Form replaces the third-party income verifications but does not replace HOME TIC. A HOME TIC must be included in the file; regardless of whether or not there is a 50058 (see Part 4.1 for more information). The recipient may not rely on the HUD Form 50058 or PHA form if a reasonable person in the recipient's position would conclude that the tenant's actual annual income is higher than the tenant's represented annual income. Additionally, the HUD/PHA form must be signed by both the tenant and the PHA Representative when used as the income verification.

Because the HUD Form 50059 used for project-based Section 8 is not signed by a PHA representative, the Form 50059 cannot be used as income verification. However, the 50059 should be maintained in the file to verify the amount of rental assistance on the unit.

Furthermore, IHCD cannot accept the Enterprise Income Verification (EIV) system used by Section 8 to verify income. Therefore, the income of Section 8 recipients living in program units must continue to be third-party verified. EIV documentation should be kept in a separate file from the HOME/CDBG/CDBG-D verifications so that it is completely inaccessible to the IHCD monitor.

C. Verification Transmittal

Income verification requests must be sent directly to the source by the recipient or management agent and returned by the source to the recipient or management agent. Under no circumstances should the applicant or resident be allowed to send or deliver the verification form to the third party source. It is suggested that a self-addressed, stamped envelope be included with the request for verification, to ensure a timely response. In addition, fax copies of verifications are acceptable.

All tenant income verifications should be date stamped as they are received.

D. Acceptable Forms of Income Verification

The following section provides brief guidance on some common sources of income to verify.

For complete information concerning acceptable forms of income Verification for Employment Income, Self-employment Income, Social Security/Pensions/Supplemental Security Income (SSI)/Disability Income, Unemployment Compensations, Alimony or Child Support Payments, Recurring Contributions and Gifts, Scholarships, Grants, Veteran's Administration Benefits, etc., see Chapter 5 of HUD Handbook 4350.3 and the Technical Guide for Determining Income and Allowances (both sources available in Appendix A).

1) Social Security and Supplemental Security Income

IHCD will accept the Annual Benefit Award letter provided from the Social Security office to verify Social Security Benefits. However, all Supplemental Security Income is required to be verified and dated within 6 months prior to the certification date. When interpreting Social Security benefit letters, remember to use the gross amount before deductions, unless the deduction is for a prior overpayment of benefits.

Delayed SS and SSI payments received as a lump sum are not counted as income, but are included as a lump sum asset (see the second income exclusion example on page 5-21 of HUD Handbook 4350.3). Delayed SS and SSI payments received as periodic payments are excluded from income (see item #13 in Exhibit 5-1 of HUD Handbook 4350.3).

2) Child Support Verification

As guidance to the recipient regarding child support verification, IHCD requires the following documentation to verify income from child support:

- a. The tenant must be asked on the Application for tenancy and/or the Tenant Eligibility Questionnaire if anyone in the household is entitled to receive child support.
- b. If the tenant is entitled and is currently receiving child support, a copy of the court order, divorce decree, or verification from the agency administering the child support payments must be received.
- c. If the tenant is receiving child support but there is no court order (i.e. the tenant has made an alternative arrangement with the child support payer), then the recipient should attempt to obtain third-party verification from the source making the payments.
- d. If the tenant is entitled to receive child support, but has not received a payment within the previous year, verification from the agency administering the child support payments must be received by the recipient. In addition, an affidavit from the tenant to the recipient certifying that a) the tenant is not receiving child support payments; b) the reason the tenant is not receiving the payments; and c) the efforts made by the tenant to receive the payments must be obtained.

If there is a court order but the tenant has not made efforts to receive the child support, then the recipient must count the full amount of court ordered child support as income.

- e. If the tenant is entitled to receive child support, but payments over the previous year have been sporadic (i.e. more than one-third (1/3) of the payments have not been paid), then the recipient may average the payments received over the previous year to project anticipated income for the next twelve (12) months. The recipient should document the file with the previous twelve (12) month history.

3) Unemployment and Welfare Benefits

The recipient must attempt to receive third-party verification of unemployment benefits. When anticipating income from unemployment, the recipient must annualize the weekly benefit amount regardless of whether or not the benefit end date suggests that benefits won't last for the full year. The recipient may not use the total benefit amount, the remaining benefit amount, or an average of the benefits received.

The only exception is if the tenant knows a date on which he or she will return to work or begin a new job. In this case, the recipient would calculate unemployment benefits up until the hire date and then calculate employment income for the rest of the year. IHCD will expect to see third-party verification of the unemployment benefits and a third-party verification (employment verification) showing the start date for the job, including all other information applicable to employment.

Welfare payments in the form of Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) are included in household income. Food stamps are not included as household income.

Settlement payments from claim disputes over unemployment or welfare are treated as lump sum assets. However, lump sum payments caused by delays in processing periodic payments in unemployment or welfare are included as income (see page 5-18 and Figure 5-3 on page 5-19 of HUD Handbook 4350.3).

4) Employment Income

Employment income must be third-party verified when possible. When third-party verification is impossible or delayed for more than two (2) weeks, the recipient may rely on the number of paystubs. For tenants with jobs that provide steady employment, the recipient must obtain the number of paystubs that covers three (3) consecutive months of payments. For tenants with jobs that are seasonal or sporadic, the recipient must obtain documentation that covers the entire previous twelve (12) month period.

If utilizing tax returns as income verification, the recipient must obtain a certified copy by completing IRS Form 4506 "Request for Copy of Tax Form."

For purposes of verifying and calculating employment income, it is imperative to consider year-to-date earnings. IHCD requires the recipient to calculate employment income in one of the following manners:

-If third-party employment verification is received, calculate the total anticipated income for the year and compare to the anticipated income based off of the year-to-date (YTD) figure provided on the verification form (all employment verification forms must ask for YTD earnings). Use the higher of the two figures when calculating total household income.

-If the three (3) months of most recent paystubs are received, calculate the total anticipated income based off of the average of the paystubs and compare to the total anticipated income based off of the year-to-date (YTD) figure found on the most recent paystub. Use the higher of the two figures when calculating household income.

IHCDA provides sample income calculation worksheets for the convenience of the recipient/ management. Form #40 provides a calculation method for using paystubs and Form #41 provides a calculation method for using third-party employment verifications.

5) Recurring Gifts / Regular Contributions to Household

Any regular contributions and gifts to the household from persons not living in the unit must be included in annual income. This includes payments paid on behalf of the family and other cash or noncash contributions provided on a regular basis. Temporary, nonrecurring, or sporadic contributions or gifts are not counted.

Groceries provided directly to the household (not money given to buy groceries) are excluded. Additionally, childcare payments paid directly to the childcare provider on behalf of the tenant are excluded.

Recurring gifts/contributions should be third-party verified when possible by having the contributor sign a self-certification stating the amount and frequency of the gift/contribution.

6) Income of Students and Student Financial Assistance

Student financial assistance must be counted as part of total household income and third-party verified through the school for all households receiving Section 8 assistance. However, financial assistance is not included as part of annual household income for households that do not receive Section 8 assistance. For Section 8 recipients, all forms of financial assistance in excess of cost of tuition (not including cost of books, room and board, and other class fees) are included as income. This includes grants, scholarships, private assistance, educational entitlements, etc. but does not include loans.

There are two (2) exceptions to this rule:

- i. The student is over the age of twenty-three (23) with dependent children; or
- ii. The student is living with his or her parents who are receiving Section 8 assistance.

If the Section 8 recipient meets one of the previous exemptions, then financial assistance is not included as part of total household income and does not need to be verified.

E. Differences in Reported Income

The management agent should give the applicant the opportunity to explain any significant differences between the amounts reported on the application and amounts reported on third-party verifications in order to determine actual income. The explanation of the difference should be documented in the tenant file.

F. Zero Income Households

It is possible that a household living in a tax credit will have total annual income of $0. This is possible if the household is receiving rental assistance, food stamps, and other forms of assistance that are not counted as income. However, it is often the case that households claiming to be zero income are in fact receiving some type of recurring gift from friends or family members (see part 4.3 D5 above).

If an individual applicant/tenant within the household has zero income, IHCDA advises having that individual fill out a form similar to IHCDA Form #15 "Non-employed Status Certification." This form asks the household member to certify that he or she has no employment, allows them to answer questions about other forms of income, and provides an option to claim zero income but explain that another household member pays for all expenses.

If the entire household is claiming zero income, IHCD advises having the household complete a form similar to IHCD Form #27 “Zero Income Certification and Basic Needs Questionnaire.” This form asks the household to identify how various expenses will be paid and often serves as a way of catching recurring gifts and contributions to the household.

While zero income households do exist, it is the responsibility of the recipient to prove due diligence when reporting households as zero income. Zero income households can raise a red flag for auditors, especially if the household that is claiming zero income is responsible for a portion of rent.

Part 4.4 Annual Income

A. Whose Income and Assets are Counted?

Member	Employment Income	Unearned/asset income
Head of household	Yes	Yes
Spouse/ Co-head	Yes	Yes
Other adult	Yes	Yes
Foster adult*	Yes	Yes
Dependent Child Under 18	No	Yes
Full-time student over 18 	See Note Below	Yes
Foster child under 18*	No	Yes
Non-members (live-in aides, guests, etc.)	No	No

*The earned and unearned income of foster adults and the unearned income of foster children is counted in total household income, but foster adults and foster children are not counted for the purposes of determining household size.

**If a full-time student over 18 is a dependent of the household, only a maximum of $480 of earned income is included in annual household income.

B. Income

Annual household income is defined as the gross amount of anticipated income to be received by all adult members of the household (18 years of age and older, including full-time and part-time Students) and the unearned income of minors during the 12 months following the date of certification or re-certification.

For information regarding annual income inclusions and exclusions and how to calculate annual income, see HUD Handbook 4350.3 CHG-3 in Appendix A. As a general rule, any items not specifically excluded in the Handbook must be included as annual income.

Note that income limits are based on gross annual income, not adjusted annual income. Allowances commonly used in some government programs, such as child care allowance, elderly household allowance, dependent allowance, handicapped assistance allowance, etc., are not permitted to be subtracted from the household’s gross income to determine income eligibility for assisted units.

C. Assets

Assets are items of value, other than necessary personal items. In general terms, an asset is a cash or noncash item that can be converted to cash. Income from assets must be taken into consideration when determining the eligibility of a household. Asset information (asset value and income from assets) should be obtained at the time of application and annually at recertification. All asset sources must be third-party verified.

The market value of an asset is its dollar value on the open market. The cash value of an asset is the market value minus reasonable expenses incurred to convert the asset to cash.

Any income or asset source not specifically excluded must be included. For more information regarding net household asset inclusions and exclusions, and how to determine the value of and income from assets, see HUD Handbook 4350.3 in Appendix A, specifically Section 5-7 and Exhibit 5-2.

1. Imputing Income from Assets

If net family assets (cash value of assets) is greater than $5000, asset income (which must be included as part of total gross household income) will be the greater of: a) actual asset income; or b) net family assets multiplied by the HUD approved passbook rate (the "Imputed Income from Assets"). The current rate is two percent (2%).

2. Disposed of Assets

Assets disposed of for less than fair market value are included as assets for a period of two (2) years from the date of disposal. The amount to be included as an asset is the difference between the cash value of the asset and the amount that was actually received (if any) in the disposition of the asset. This rule only applies if the difference between the cash value and the amount received is greater than $1000.

Assets disposed of for less than fair market value as a result of foreclosure or bankruptcy or those lost through a separation or divorce settlement are not included in this calculation.

D. Computing the Total Household Income

After all income and asset information has been verified and computed for a household, all qualified sources of income are added together to derive the total household income. In order for the household to qualify for an assisted unit, the total household income must be at or below the maximum allowable qualifying income in effect at the time of tenant certification. If the total household income is greater than the maximum allowable qualifying income, the household cannot be certified for an assisted unit. Income and assets must be calculated in accordance with the Section 8 methodology described in Chapter 5 of HUD Handbook 4350.3. Any income and asset source not specifically excluded from household income must be included.

Income limits are based on gross annual income, not adjusted annual income. Allowances commonly used in some government programs, such as child care allowance, elderly household allowance, dependent allowance, handicapped assistance allowance, medical deductions, etc., are not permitted to be subtracted from the household's gross annual income to determine income eligibility. Adjusted income is only calculated to determine the rent to charge households exceeding 80% AMI as described in Part 3.1 C.

Part 4.5 Annual and Interim Income Recertification Requirements

The recipient must perform, at least on an annual basis, an income recertification for each low-income household and receive documentation to support that certification. The recipient may choose one of three options when deciding when to perform annual recertifications.

1. Recertification may be performed at the anniversary date of the initial move-in certification; or
2. Recertification may be performed at lease renewal; or
3. Recertification may be performed on an annual schedule where all households are verified at the same time every year (for example, recipient may choose to annually recertify every existing household on January 1st).

Recipients may utilize effective dates when performing tenant certifications. Therefore, the tenant may sign the tenant certification on or before the date the certification takes effect. All income and eligibility verifications must be dated no more than six (6) months prior to the effective date of the tenant certification. The recipient should have language in the tenant certification documents indicating that the tenant must inform the recipient of any changes of income or household composition that may occur between the date the tenant signs the certification and the effective date of the certification.

Whenever a recertification indicates that the composition of the household has changed, program eligibility must be re-evaluated. Composition changes include a birth, a death, a new tenant moving into the household, and/or an existing tenant vacating the household. In the event that a new member is added to a qualifying household, the following steps must be taken:

1. The new household member should complete an Application and Eligibility Questionnaire and Verification of income and Assets must be completed;
2. The new household member's income must be included as part of the household's certified income. The combined household income must be compared to the maximum allowable income limit in effect at the time and based on actual household size.

Written third-party documentation verifying all income and asset sources reported by the household is required at initial occupancy and annually at recertification. See Part 4.3 for more information on the income and asset verification process.

Part 4.6 Lease and Rent Requirements

All residents occupying program units must be certified and under a lease no later than the time that the household moves into the unit. A lease is required for all transitional housing, permanent supportive housing, and permanent rental housing units. All residents of emergency shelters and migrant farm worker housing must sign a program agreement.

A. Lease or Program Agreement Requirements

At a minimum, the lease should include (but is not limited to):

- 1) The legal name of all parties to the agreement and all other occupants;
- 2) A description of the unit to be rented; must include unit/bedroom size, set aside percentage, and unit address;
- 3) The date the lease becomes effective;
- 4) The end date of the lease (must be for at least one year unless there is a mutual agreement between tenant and recipient for a shorter period);
- 5) The rental amount;
- 6) Language or Lease Addendum acknowledging receipt of the Fair Housing and Lead-Based Paint Brochures;
- 7) A description of utilities that the tenant pays and those that the recipient pays. The utility allowance requirements and monthly allowance being provided;
- 8) The use of the premises including language addressing that only members listed on the lease/TIC may dwell in the unit, that the unit must be the household's primary residence, and that the unit may not be sublet;
- 9) The rights and obligations of the parties, including the obligation of the tenant to certify annually (or more frequently as required) to income as defined herein;
- 10) Language which addresses income decreases, income increases, utility allowance increases/decreases, basic rent changes (in Rural Development or 236 Developments), household composition changes, or any other change and its impact on the tenant's rent;
- 11) Renewal process;
- 12) Language addressing the right of the development and/or other funding providers to enter the assisted-unit for physical inspections;
- 13) Termination process (must give at least 30 days notice);
- 14) Signature of tenant (s) 18 and older or emancipated;
- 15) Signature of recipient/property manager; and
- 16) Date of execution.

At a minimum, the Program Agreement should include (but is not limited to):

- 1) The date the Program Agreement becomes effective;
- 2) Signature of both resident and staff member;
- 3) The supportive services available;
- 4) Program guidelines, such as curfews, laundry, and recreation rules;
- 5) Program expectations for resident;

- 6) Maximum length of stay; and
- 7) List of items regarded as contraband.

B. Prohibited Lease Language

Finding the following items within a lease will constitute a finding of noncompliance:

- 1) Agreement to be sued, to admit guilt, or to a judgment in favor of the owner in a lawsuit brought in connection with the lease;
- 2) Agreement that the owner may seize or sell personal property without notice and a court decision (this does not apply to tenants who have vacated the property);
- 3) Excusing owner from responsibility- Lease cannot contain an agreement not to hold the owner or owner's agents legally responsible for any action or failure to act, whether intentional or negligent;
- 4) Waiver of notice stating the owner may institute a lawsuit without notice to the tenant;
- 5) Waiver of legal proceedings stating the owner may evict the tenant without instituting a civil court proceeding;
- 6) Waiver of jury trial;
- 7) Waiver of right to appeal or otherwise challenge a court decision; and
- 8) Agreement to pay all legal costs regardless of the outcome. The tenant may be obligated to pay costs if he or she loses a court proceeding but may not be required to pay the owner's attorney fees or other legal costs if the he or she wins the court proceeding.

C. Rents

Rents on the program units may not exceed the amounts allowed by the applicable rent limits. Any violation of overcharging rents is considered noncompliance and the recipient will have to adjust rent and repay the overcharged rents (See Part 3.2 for more information on correctly implementing rent limits).

D. Initial Minimum Term of Lease

There must be a lease term of at least one (1) year on all program units, unless the recipient and the tenant have a mutually agreed upon a different lease term for the unit.

Federal regulations do allow shorter leases for certain types of housing for homeless individuals. The following types of housing are exempt from the one year minimum lease term:

- 1) Single Room Occupancy (SRO) units in developments receiving McKinney Act and Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation assistance;
- 2) Single Room Occupancy (SRO) units intended as permanent housing and not receiving McKinney Act assistance;
- 3) Single Room Occupancy (SRO) units intended as transitional housing that are operated by a governmental or nonprofit entity and provide certain supportive services; or
- 4) Units that a) contain sleeping accommodations and kitchen and bathroom facilities; b) are located in a building which is used exclusively to facilitate the transition of homeless individuals to independent living within 24 months; and c) for which a governmental entity or qualified nonprofit organization provides such individuals with temporary housing and supportive services designed to assist such individuals in locating and retaining permanent housing.

*Note: If a development has units set aside in a building for homeless households, those tenants must have leases with at least one year terms, unless the building's primary use is described in number four (4) above or the owner and tenant have mutually agreed upon a shorter lease term.

**Note: Leases must reflect the correct date of move-in, and/or the date the tenant takes possession of the unit.

E. Eviction or Termination of Tenancy

If after occupying a unit, an eligible household cannot pay the rent or otherwise commits material violation of the lease, the recipient has the same rights in dealing with the income-eligible tenant as with any other tenant, including, if necessary, eviction.

Regulations state that there must be just cause for eviction or other form of termination of tenancy (non-renewal of lease). This provision is often referred to as “good cause eviction.” Language outlining actions that constitute just cause for eviction or termination of tenancy must be included in writing at the time of initial occupancy, preferably in the lease. When a tenant is evicted or a lease is terminated, IHCDCA will expect to see documentation outlining the specific cause for non-renewal.

When the recipient determines that eviction or termination of tenancy is necessary, the tenant must be served written notice and given no less than thirty (30) days to vacate. The recipient must document the justification and keep copies of the notifications sent to the tenant.

Note: Recipients may not terminate tenancy solely because a household experiences a change in income and existing tenants are never required to move because of an increase or decrease in income. This includes temporarily noncompliant units in which the households exceed 80% of AMI.

Section 5: Compliance Monitoring Procedures

This section of the manual outlines IHCD's procedures for monitoring all awards. Monitoring is designed to assist the recipients with federal, state, and local regulations regarding IHCD's compliance monitoring requirements and procedures in accordance with 24 CFR Part 92, 24 CFR Part 570, and State Code for Development Fund. However, compliance is solely the responsibility of the recipient and is necessary to use and retain the funds allocated to the award.

Monitoring each award is an ongoing activity that extends throughout the affordability period. IHCD is required by law to conduct this compliance monitoring and to take the appropriate steps when noncompliance is found.

Part 5.1 Recipient and Management Agent Contacts

Correspondence from IHCD to the recipient will be sent to the recipient contact person provided in the award's Final Application. IHCD will copy the management agent contact person, with recipient approval, on any correspondence from IHCD to the recipient regarding file monitoring reviews and physical inspections. All other correspondence will be sent directly to the recipient contact person.

IHCD will allow no more than one recipient contact name and address and one management contact name and address per award. IHCD will annually update the contact information based on the information provided in the development's Annual Owner Certification of Compliance. If at any other time the contact person of the recipient or management agent changes, it is the sole responsibility of the recipient to inform IHCD in writing of such change with supporting documentation. Changes in ownership contact information must be reported via IHCD's "Ownership Change Form" and changes in Management contact information must be reported to IHCD via the "Property Management Change Form". Both documents are in Appendix B available at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>.

If the designated recipient or management contact person requests extra copies of documentation, the cost of such copies will be $.10 per single sided page.

Part 5.2 The Compliance Manual

This manual describes the compliance regulations that the recipient and management agent must follow and the compliance monitoring procedures used by IHCD. An amended Compliance Manual will be released periodically and the newest edition overrides all previous editions. Except where otherwise noted, all amendments to the Compliance Manual apply to all developments, regardless of year of funding. All appendices to the Compliance Manual are available online at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>.

Part 5.3 Annual Owner Certification of Continuing Compliance

A. Annual Owner Certification

Award recipients for the following activities will be required to submit an Annual Owner Certification throughout the affordability period:

- 1) Emergency Shelter;
- 2) Youth Shelter;
- 3) Migrant/Seasonal Farm Worker Housing;
- 4) Transitional Housing;
- 5) Permanent Supportive Housing; and
- 6) Permanent Rental Housing.

The first annual owner certification is due by January 31st of the year following the year of the award's closeout date. However, the recipient must begin reporting tenant events in the online system with the first tenant move-in.

The report covers the period January 1 – December 31 and is due to IHCD offices by the close of business January 31st of the next calendar year. The hard copy Annual Owner Certification forms are made available each year on the IHCD website, <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>, in December. IHCDA will not send the forms to the recipient or management or send an announcement that the forms are available. It is the responsibility of the recipient/management to pull the necessary forms off of IHCD's website annually and to contact IHCD if there are any questions or concerns.

All Annual Owner Certifications forms (and Beneficiary Reports for Shelters and Migrant/Seasonal Farm Worker Housing) must be typed or computer generated in the same format provided by IHCD. IHCD will not accept any Owner Certifications (or Beneficiary Reports) that are not in the same formation as provided or that are hand written.

The report consists of the following:

1. Checklist
2. Owner Certification Form;
3. Authorized Signatory Form
4. Development and Building Information Form;
5. Property Direction Form (to be submitted with first year annual report);
6. Utility Allowance Form and supporting documentation;
7. Tenant events must be reported via the IHCD Online Management Reporting System, (See Part 2.2 H). The only exceptions are for Shelters and Migrant/Seasonal Farm Worker Housing tenant events, which must be reported via the Beneficiary Report that can be found on the IHCD website at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>.
8. Copy of Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan (only necessary to submit if there are 5 or more HOME-assisted units AND the plan has been updated since last submitted to IHCD).

Through these reports, the recipient must certify that:

1. The award meets the required set-aside per the award agreement.
2. An Annual Income Certification form and supporting documentation to support the certification has been received for each tenant.
3. All units in the award are for use by the general public and no finding of discrimination under the Fair Housing Act occurred for the award. All units are used on a non-transient basis (except for transitional housing units allowed under the award agreement).
4. All units in the award are suitable for occupancy, taking into account all federal, state, and local health, safety, and building codes and the state or local unit of government responsible for making building code inspections did not issue a report of a violation for any building or unit in the award.
5. Fair housing, equal employment opportunity, and lead-based paint information is posted, as required by IHCD. Each beneficiary of a HOME-assisted unit has been given a lead-based paint and fair housing brochure as required by IHCD. Documentation of each beneficiary's receipt of the brochures is being maintained throughout the affordability period and is available for inspection by IHCD.
6. No low-income units or HOME-assisted units in the building became vacant during the applicable year; or one or more low-income units in the building became vacant during the applicable year and reasonable efforts were/are being made to rent such units or units of comparable size in the building to eligible tenants.
7. No tenant of any low-income unit in the award experienced an increase in income above the limit allowed; or income of tenants of a low-income unit in the award increased above the limit allowed, and the next available unit of comparable or larger size in the award was or will be rented to eligible tenants;
8. The recipient has received a Tenant Income Certification form for each low-income tenant in the award and sufficient documentation to support that certification;
9. Each low-income unit in the award was restricted as provided under the program and state requirements;
10. The award is in continuing compliance with all promises, covenants, set-asides and agreed upon restrictions as set forth in the application for the Award;
11. If the award has benefited from HOME funds, the amount of HOME funds received from IHCD and from other sources, the source of the HOME funds, and the affordability period associated with the HOME funds;
12. The unit types, gross rents, utility allowance, and actual rents;
13. All tenant facilities included in the award under the program and state regulations, such as swimming pools, recreational facilities, and parking areas, are provided on a comparable basis without charge to all tenants of the award;
14. The award has at least one smoke detector on each level of the rental dwelling unit;

15. There have been no changes in entity ownership or if there have been, IHCD has been provided with all details and all necessary documentation;
16. The award is in continuing compliance with the final application applicable to the award; and
17. The award is otherwise in compliance with the applicable laws, rules, regulations, and ordinances.

After reviewing the certification and the report, IHCD will notify the recipient in writing of any errors or incompleteness and will allow an appropriate correction period. All correspondence to the recipient will be sent electronically.

A copy of the Annual Owner Certification of Compliance form that must be used by all recipients is located in Appendix D available at <http://in.gov/ihcda/2519.htm>.

B. Online Tenant Event Reporting and Beneficiary Reports

The Indiana Housing Online Management website has been designed as a tool to conduct compliance checks to ensure properties stay in compliance, to follow the monitoring review process, and as a way for IHCD to communicate with our partners using a message board. The message board immediately notifies recipients and property managers when IHCD sends monitoring letters, releases MFD Notices, releases FSP Memos, or releases other information affecting our Multi-Family partners.

All assisted multi-family rental awards, except shelters and migrant farm worker housing, must enter tenant events using IHCD's Indiana Housing Online Management system. Tenant events include move-ins, move-outs, recertifications, unit transfers, household composition changes, and rent and income changes. Tenant events that must be reported online do not include interim recertifications performed for other programs, such as Section 8 or RD. In order to obtain the maximum benefits from the Indiana Housing Online Management system it is required that all tenant events be entered into the applicable system within thirty (30) days of the event date.

Additionally, it is mandatory that all Annual Recipient Certification Rental Reports be submitted electronically using the Indiana Housing Online Management website for all IHCD program assisted units (i.e. HOME, CDBG, CDBG-D, Tax Credits, and Development Fund). Note: This process eliminates importing the annual beneficiary report from an Excel spreadsheet.

To use the rental reporting system or register to become a user, please visit the Indiana Housing Online Management website at <https://ihcdaonline.com/>. Free on-demand training videos that explain how to use the rental reporting system are available through the website at <https://ihcdaonline.com/Links.htm>.

Part 5.4 IHCD Tenant/Unit File Review and Onsite Award Inspections

All transitional housing, permanent supportive housing and rental housing properties will be subject to tenant file audits and physical unit inspections throughout the affordability period based on the following schedule:

Total # of Units in Award	Inspection Period
1 – 4 Units	Every 3 Years
5 – 25 Units	Every 2 Years
26 or More Units	Every Year

All emergency shelters, youth shelters and migrant seasonal farm-worker housing will be monitored for program compliance and physically inspected every two (2) years regardless of the number of beds in the award.

Additional file reviews/unit inspections will be conducted if warranted. IHCD has the right to review an award's tenant/unit files in house (at IHCD offices) or onsite at the development and/or to perform physical inspections of development as deemed necessary throughout the affordability period, with or without providing prior notification.

A. Tenant File Audits

All awards will have a tenant file audit in the same year the development has a physical inspection. IHCD staff or a representative of IHCD will conduct the audit. The audit will either be conducted onsite or through a desktop review. Regardless of whether it is done onsite or offsite, the audit will consist of the following:

- 1) Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity - Are the fair housing and equal opportunity posters displayed at:
  - a. The property location if a single site project; and/or
  - b. At the site where residents apply for housing.
- 2) Lead Based Paint Educational Information (if applicable) - Is the Lead Based Paint Poster displayed at:
  - a. The property location if a single site project; and/or
  - b. At the site where residents apply for housing.
- 3) Annual recertification of the unit passing a visual assessment (as required by the Lead-Based Paint regulations).
- 4) Affirmative Marketing- Projects with five (5) or more HOME-assisted, permanent supportive housing, transitional housing or permanent rental units must follow Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing procedures,
  - a. IHCD will review the Affirmative Marketing Plan process utilized in determining the market least likely to apply for housing, and how the units were marketed to this segment of the population. IHCD will review documentation including brochures, advertisements and marketing materials that were utilized;
  - b. Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must be evaluated at least once every five (5) years and updated according to the policies of the Fair Housing and Equal Opportunity Office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). All updated Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plans must be submitted to IHCD.
- 5) Tenant Selection Policies - IHCD will review the tenant selection policies utilized by management. The written policy should allow IHCD staff to determine how tenants are selected and the criteria used for approving or denying applicants. See Part 3.5 F for more information on Tenant Selection Criteria.
- 6) Utility Allowance - IHCD will review documentation of utilities paid by the tenant versus those paid by the recipient.
- 7) Tenant Files (See Appendix B – Sample Forms)- For each unit randomly selected, a file must be available containing the following documentation:
  - a. Lease;
  - b. Application (for move-in files);
  - c. Tenant Income Certification (TIC) form;
  - d. Tenant Income Certification Questionnaires;
  - e. Income and asset verifications;
  - f. Utility allowance and supporting documentation;
  - g. Documentation of the receipt of the applicable brochures (Fair Housing & Lead Based Paint); and
  - h. For tenants receiving tenant-based Section 8 vouchers, a copy of the Housing Assistance Payment (HAP) Contract and the current HAP Amendment from the Section 8 agency showing the amount of rental assistance. For tenants in project-based Section 8 units, a copy of the current HUD Form 50059 showing the amount of rental assistance.

NOTE: If files are not available or are found in such a condition that prohibits effective monitoring, IHCD reserves the right to begin the ninety (90) day period to rectify the situation at the time of review.

B. When performing an onsite (at the development or management office) file audit, IHCD will:

- 1) As a courtesy, IHCD will notify the recipient and/or management agent two (2) weeks in advance of the intended site visit. However, IHCD reserves the right to inspect any unit/tenant file at any time at its discretion without prior notification.

- 2) Inform the management agent which unit files will be inspected;
- 3) Provide an Exit Interview Summary to management representative;
- 4) Inform the recipient of any findings of noncompliance with regard to such review; and
- 5) Allow the recipient ninety (90) days to notify IHCDCA of any correction of noncompliance.

NOTE: If files are not available or are in such an unorganized condition that an IHCDCA monitor cannot effectively review the files, the ninety (90) day correction period will begin immediately.

C. When performing an in-house (at IHCDCA office) file audit, IHCDCA will:

- 1) Notify the recipient in writing which unit files have been selected for review;
- 2) Respectfully request that copies of the selected files and documentation either be shipped to IHCDCA or hand delivered by the recipient or a representative of the recipient;
- 3) Ask for a current rent roll and utility allowance information;
- 4) Shred all files and confidential information after the review is completed;
- 5) Give a time frame in which the tenant file documentation must be submitted;
- 6) Inform the recipient of any findings of noncompliance with regard to such review; and
- 7) Allow the recipient ninety (90) days to notify IHCDCA of any correction of noncompliance.

NOTE: The desktop notification/file request letter will include a checklist of the items that must be included in each tenant file submitted. When reviewing copies of the files, IHCDCA will expect to see all of the applicable documents listed on the checklist, in the approximate order that they are listed (leasing information, tenant information, income verifications, asset verifications, other clarifications). Monitors will not review files that are submitted in a disorderly or incomplete fashion.

D. Prior to performing an onsite physical inspection, IHCDCA will:

- 1) Notify the recipient and/or the management company, one week prior to the inspection, of the date and approximate time the inspection will take place.
- 2) Request that the recipients' and/or management company's representative be present and accompany the inspector throughout the entire inspection process.

NOTE: It is imperative that all units be available for interior inspections as well as exterior (common areas inclusive). Physical inspection is not limited to vacant units. Staff will ask to inspect specific units whether the unit is occupied or not;

IHCDCA staff or a representative of IHCDCA will conduct the inspection.

The inspectors will ensure that your award meets the stricter of the Indiana State Building Code and/or local rehabilitation standards. Additionally, they will ensure there are not health and safety violations. If items are found to be noncompliant with the Indiana State Building Code and/or local rehabilitation standards, you will be required to correct those items.

E. After performing an onsite physical inspection, IHCDCA will:

- 1) Provide to the property representative, if needed, a copy of a Critical Violations Letter identifying all exigent health, safety, and/or fire hazards observed at the time of the inspection that require immediate corrections. NOTE: All exigent health and safety issues identified in the Critical Violations Letter must be corrected within twenty-four (24) hours and IHCDCA must be notified of the completed corrections within seventy-two (72) hours;
- 2) Forward a copy of the inspection report to the recipient and management company indicating a correction time frame;
- 3) Request that all noncompliance issues be corrected within the time frame specified in the inspection report;
- 4) Request that legible copies of the proof of the corrections, in the form of legible work orders, receipts, and/or invoices, with a recipient signed affidavit be forwarded to IHCDCA within the allotted time frame indicated in the inspection report;
- 5) Review the correction documents for completeness and forward applicable correspondence indicating that an in depth review of the documents will be completed as soon as possible;
- 6) Schedule a second inspection if necessary;
- 7) Review the supporting documents of correction for correlation with the inspection report; and

- 8) Forward correspondence indicating that no further corrective actions regarding the physical condition of the property are needed at this time OR contact the recipient by phone detailing what deficiencies, in the corrective correspondence, still exist.

For more information, see the Inspection Process Flow Chart in Appendix G.

Part 5.5 Noncompliance

Noncompliance is defined as a period of time an award, specific building, or unit is ineligible because of failure to satisfy program requirements.

For more information on noncompliance, see Section 6.

Part 5.6 Penalty Fees

A. Late Owner Certifications

Owner Certifications are due annually by January 31st. A fee of $100 per development will be assessed if either the hardcopy Owner Certifications are received after the deadline or the online tenant events are finalized after the deadline.

B. Re-inspection or Re-monitoring fees

IHCDA will charge additional monitoring fees if staff must return to a site for an additional physical inspection or file review. These fees will equal the greater of (a) $150 or (b) $15 per unit reviewed. These fees will be applied in the following situations:

1. If staff must return to check on deficiencies or errors noted during the initial inspection/monitoring; or
2. If staff could not complete the initial inspection/monitoring because a recipient or management representative was not available onsite at the designated time and location.

Part 5.7 Procedures for the Transfer of Program Units

The recipient must notify IHCDA's General Counsel immediately if the composition of the award changes due to Disposition or Sale of any units in the award before the affordability period expires.

Section 6: Noncompliance

Noncompliance is defined as a period of time an award, specific building, or unit is ineligible because of failure to satisfy applicable program requirements.

Part 6.1 Types of Noncompliance

Generally, during the affordability period, an award is out of compliance if:

- 1) The award no longer meets the minimum set-aside requirements of the application, the gross rent requirements of the HOME program, or the other requirements for the units which are set-aside; or
- 2) There is failure to submit the annual utility allowance documentation, Owner Certification, or tenant income and rent report, along with any applicable supporting documentation in a timely manner; or
- 3) An ineligible household resides in a program unit; or
- 4) A unit or building is no longer suitable for occupancy or otherwise in violation of physical inspection standards; or
- 5) The recipient does not comply with requests to conduct a physical inspection or file audit.

Part 6.2 Consequences

If the award is out of compliance, penalties to the recipient could include:

- 1) Recapture of award funds;
- 2) Negative points on any subsequent applications;
- 3) Rejection of future applications;
- 4) Increased monitoring or reporting requirements;
- 5) Repayment of rent overages;
- 6) Re-inspection fees (see Part 5.6); and /or
- 7) Late fees (see Part 5.6).

Part 6.3 Notification of Noncompliance to Recipient

IHCDA is required to provide written notice of noncompliance to the recipient if:

- 1) Any required submissions are not received by the due dates;
- 2) Tenant income certification, supporting documentation, and rent records are not submitted when requested by IHCDA; and/or
- 3) The award is found to be out of compliance through inspection, review, and/or other means with the provisions of program or state requirements.

IHCDA will not provide documentation for specific awards to more than one contact person in a recipient entity for each award. If other individuals within a recipient entity wish to receive such documentation, they must obtain it from the contact person named in the award's application.

Part 6.4 Notification of Noncompliance by Recipient to IHCDA

If the recipient and/or management agent determines that a unit, building, or an entire development is not in compliance with program requirements, IHCDA should be notified immediately. The recipient and/or management agent must formulate a plan to come back into compliance and advise IHCDA in writing of such a plan. The recipient and/or management agent must keep documentation outlining: the noncompliance issue, date the noncompliance issue was discovered, date that noncompliance issue was corrected, and actions taken to correct noncompliance.

Additionally, the recipient is responsible for replacing temporarily noncompliant units (units where the household exceeds 80% AMI) as per the guidelines in Part 3.2 C.

Part 6.5 Correction Period

Should IHCD discover, as a result of an inspection or review, or in any other manner, that the award is not in compliance with program or state requirements, IHCD shall notify the recipient. The recipient is to commence appropriate action to cure such noncompliance.

The recipient shall have a maximum of ninety (90) days from the date of notice to the recipient to cure the noncompliance. If IHCD determines that there is good cause, an extension of up to six (6) months to complete the cure for noncompliance may be granted.

Part 6.6 Recapture

If funds are recaptured because the housing no longer meets affordability requirements, regardless of entity or activity, these funds must be returned to IHCD.

A. HOME Recapture

The award recipient must ensure that a lien and restrictive covenant is executed against every property constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired, in whole or in part, with HOME funds. Upon occurrence of any of the following events during the Affordability Period, the entire sum secured by the lien, without interest, shall be due and payable by developer and/or owner upon demand. Repayment may be demanded upon: (1) Transfer or conveyance of the real estate by deed, land contract, lease, or otherwise, during the Affordability Period; (2) Commencement of foreclosure proceedings by any mortgagee (or deed in lieu of foreclosure), within the Affordability Period; (3) Units not being used as a residence by a qualifying tenant or not leased according to the HOME Program affordability requirements. The award recipient will be responsible for repaying IHCD for any HOME funds utilized for any housing constructed, redeveloped, rehabilitated, or acquired that does not remain affordable in accordance with 24 CFR 92.252 for the entire Affordability Period. The Affordability Period is based upon the total amount of HOME funds invested into the development.

B. CDBG/CDBG-D Recapture

The award recipient must ensure that a lien and restrictive covenant is executed against every multi-family or rental property constructed, rehabilitated, or acquired, in whole or in part, with CDBG or CDBG-D Funds. Upon occurrence of any of the following events during the Affordability Period, the entire sum secured by the lien, without interest, shall be due and payable by the award recipient or owner upon demand. Repayment may be demanded upon: (1) Transfer or conveyance of the real estate by deed, land contract, lease, or otherwise, during the Affordability Period; (2) Commencement of foreclosure proceedings by any mortgagee (or deed in lieu of foreclosure), within the Affordability Period; (3) Units not being used as a residence by a qualifying tenant or not leased according to the CDBG or CDBG-D Program affordability requirements. The award recipient must execute and record a lien and restrictive covenant on the property. The award recipient must execute a lien and restrictive covenant prepared by IHCD. The award recipient is ultimately responsible for repaying IHCD any CDBG or CDBG-D funds invested into any development that does not meet the affordability requirements throughout the Affordability Period. The Affordability Period is based upon the total amount of CDBG or CDBG-D funds invested into the development.

Part 6.7 Retention of Noncompliance Records by IHCD

IHCD will retain records of noncompliance or failure to certify for six (6) years beyond the expiration date of the award. In all other cases, IHCD will retain the certifications and records for three (3) years from the end of the calendar year IHCD received the certifications and records.

Section 7: Glossary

Affirmative Fair Housing Marketing Plan: Also referred to as the AFHMP or Affirmative Marketing Plan. A plan in which the owner/management of a property confirms that they are following Fair Housing regulations and are making efforts to market the property to those groups determined to be least likely to otherwise apply for residency. All projects with five (5) or more HOME-assisted units must have an AFHMP in place.

Affordability Period: The length of time for which a development must continue to meet the program requirements. IHCD considers the closeout date as the start date for the project affordability period.

AMI: Area Median Income

Annual Household Income: Annual income of all persons who intend to permanently reside in a unit.

Annual Income: Total current anticipated income to be received by a tenant from all sources including assets for the next twelve (12) months.

Annual Income Recertification: Document by which the tenant re-certifies his/her income for the purpose of determining whether the tenant will be considered low-income according to the provisions of the program.

Application: Form completed by a person or household seeking rental of a unit in an award. An application should solicit sufficient information to determine the applicant's eligibility and compliance with federal and IHCD guidelines.

Applicant: Any recipient, principal and participant, including any affiliates associated with an award that is seeking an award of HOME, CDBG, or Development Fund monies.

Area Median Income: The median income for a specific county as published by HUD.

Assets: Items of value, other than necessary and personal items, which are considered in determining the eligibility of a household.

Asset Income: The amount of money received by a household from items of value as defined in HUD Handbook 4350.3.

Authority: Indiana Housing and Community Development Authority (IHCD).

Available Unit: A vacant unit that is not under any contractual agreement between the owner and a prospective resident. A unit is not available if an applicant has already signed a lease but has not yet moved into the unit.

Award: The amount of money allocated for rental housing or homebuyer units to a recipient of HOME, CDBG, or Development Fund award.

Certification Year: The twelve (12) month time period beginning on the date the unit is first occupied and each twelve (12) month period commencing on the same date thereafter.

Closeout Date: The date of project completion, defined by HUD as the date that all necessary title transfer requirements and construction work have been performed; the project complies with the requirements of 24 CFR 92.2 and the property standards of 24 CFR 92.251; the final drawdown has been disbursed for the project; and the project completion information has been entered in the disbursement and information system (IDIS) established by HUD. IHCD considers the closeout date as the start date for the project affordability period.

Comparable Unit: A unit that is equal or greater than another unit in terms of size, number of bedrooms, and amenities.

Compliance: The act of meeting the requirements and conditions specified under the law and the program requirements.

Correction Period: A reasonable time as determined by the Authority for a recipient to correct any violation as a result of noncompliance.

Current Anticipated Income: Gross anticipated income for the next twelve (12) months as of the date of occupancy that is expected to be received by the tenant(s) including imputed income.

Developer: Any individual and/or entity who develops or prepares a real estate site for residential use to be an award.

Due Diligence: The appropriate, voluntary efforts to remain in compliance with all applicable program rules and regulations. Due diligence can be demonstrated through business care and prudent practices and policies. Due diligence is the establishment of internal controls, including but not limited to: separation of duties, adequate supervision of employees, management oversight and review (internal audits), third party verifications of tenant income, independent audits, and timely recordkeeping. IHCD expects all HOME, CDBG, and Development Fund awards to demonstrate due diligence.

Earned Income: Income from employment, including wages, salaries, tips, commission, bonuses, overtime pay, anticipated raises, and any other compensation. The earned income of all adult household members is included in the Annual Household Income calculation. The earned income of minors (members under age 18) is not included.

Effective Date of Tenant Certification: The date the Tenant Income Certification becomes applicable. For initial certifications, this date must be the move-in date of the tenant. For annual re-certifications, this date must be no later than one year from the effective date of the previous (re) certification.

Effective Term of Verification: A period of time not to exceed one hundred twenty (120) days. After this time, if the tenant has not yet moved in, a new, written third party verification must be obtained. The verification must be within the effective term at time of Tenant's Income Certification.

Eligible Tenant: The current tenant of the unit, so long as that tenant is eligible to occupy the unit under the requirements of HOME, CDBG, or Development Fund. This expressly includes a tenant whose income would not currently qualify under HOME, CDBG, or Development Fund, but who was qualified at the time of tenant's original occupancy of the unit.

Employment Income: Wages, salaries, tips, bonuses, overtime pay, or other compensation for personal services from a job.

Fair Market Value: An amount which represents the true value at which property could be sold on the open market.

Fixed units: The HOME-assisted units remain the same throughout the affordability period.

Floating units: The HOME-assisted units may change during the affordability period. Unit mix would be changed to maintain conformity during the affordability period so that the total number of HOME-assisted units meets the requirements set out in the application and recorded declaration. Each substituted unit must be comparable in terms of size, features, and number of bedrooms to the originally designated HOME-assisted unit.

Foster Adult: An adult, usually with a disability that makes him/her unable to live alone, who is unrelated to the tenant family but has been placed in their care. Foster adults are not counted as household members when determining household size and the applicable income limit.

Foster Children: Foster children are in the legal guardianship or custody of the State or foster care agency, but are cared for by foster parents in their home under a foster care arrangement with the custodial agency. Foster children are not counted as household members when determining household size and the applicable income limit.

FSP Memos: Notices published by IHCD's Community Department to announce changes, updates, or clarifications on policies and issues affecting the HOME, CDBG, or at <http://www.in.gov/ihcda/2522.htm>, through the electronic newsletter IHCD INFO, and are also posted on the message board on the Indiana Housing Online Management rental reporting system (<https://ihcdaonline.com/>).

Good-cause Eviction: Rental Housing households cannot be evicted or have their tenancy terminated without “good-cause,” generally considered material violation of the lease. The actions that constitute good-cause for eviction or termination of tenancy must be given to the tenant in writing at the time of occupancy, preferably in the lease, as well in the property’s Tenant Selection Criteria.

Gross Income: See Annual Household Income.

Gross Rent: The gross rent for a unit is the sum of tenant portion rent + utility allowance + non-optional charges + tenant-based rental assistance.

Gross Rent Floor: the lowest amount of rent that the owner will ever be required to accept. The gross rent floor is the rent limit in effect at the time the funds are awarded. If the current applicable HOME limits drop below the gross rent floor, the owner is not required to accept lower rents.

Group Home: Housing occupied by two or more persons or families with common space/facilities for group use.

Guest: A visitor temporarily staying in a unit with the consent of the household. Guests are not treated as household members when determining household size and the applicable income limit, and their income is not included in Annual Household Income calculations.

High HOME units: HOME-assisted units reserved for households at or below 80% AMI.

HOME Rent Limit: The HUD published maximum rent amount, including a utility allowance and any non-optional fees. Rent limits are published by bedroom size.

Household: The individual, household, or group of individuals living in the unit.

Imputed Income: The estimated earnings of assets held by a tenant using the potential earning rate established by HUD.

Income Limits: Maximum incomes as published by HUD for awards giving the maximum income limits per unit for Low-Income (40%, 50%, 60%, or 80% of median) units.

Inspection: A review of an award which may be made annually by IHCD or its agent, which includes an examination of records, a review of operating procedures and a physical inspection of units.

Joint Venture: A combination of one or more independent entities that combine to form a new legal entity for the purpose of this Award.

Lease: The legal agreement between the tenant and the recipient which delineates the terms and conditions of the rental of a unit.

Lease Rent: The lease rent is the actual rent charged to the household by the owner, as defined in the lease. The lease rent may never to exceed the maximum allowable rent or the applicable HOME rent limit.

Live-in Care Attendant / Live-in Aide: A person who resides with one or more elderly, near-elderly, or disabled persons. To qualify as a live-in care attendant, the individual (a) must be determined to be essential to the care and well being of the tenant, (b) must not be financially obligated to support the tenant, and (c) must certify that he/she would not be living in the unit except to provide the necessary supportive services. While some family members may qualify, spouses can never be considered a live-in care attendant since they would not meet qualifications (b) & (c).

Low-income: HUD uses the term “low-income” for households at or below 80% AMI and

Low-Income Unit: Any unit in a building if: such unit is rent-restricted, the individuals occupying such unit meet the income limitation applicable under federal and state requirements, and the unit is suitable for occupancy.

Low HOME units: HOME-assisted units reserved for households at or below 50% AMI.

Management Company: A firm authorized by the recipient to oversee the operation and management of the award and who accepts compliance responsibility.

Maximum Allowable Rent: The maximum allowable rent is the most an owner is permitted to charge for rent once tenant-paid utilities (except telephone, cable television, and internet) and other non-optional charges are deducted. The maximum allowable rent can never exceed the applicable HOME rent limit. May also be referred to as the “maximum chargeable rent” or the “net rent”.

Maximum Allowable Rent Calculation: Maximum Allowable Rent = HOME rent limit – utility allowance – any non-optional fees

Maximum Chargeable Rent): See Maximum Allowable Rent

Median Income: A determination made through statistical methods establishing a middle point for determining income limits. Median is the amount that divides the distribution into two equal groups, one group having income above the median and one group having income below the median.

Minimum Set-Aside: The minimum number of units that the recipient has elected and set forth in the application to be income and rent-restricted.

Multi-Family Department (MFD) Notices: Notices published by IHCD’s Multi-Family Department to announce changes, updates, or clarifications on policies and issues affecting

Narrative Summary: A description written by the Applicant of the need for the Award within the community and the Award itself. This narrative should give an accurate depiction of how this Award will benefit the particular community. Generally, the summary should include the following points:

- 1) Award and unit description
- 2) Amenities - in and around the Award
- 3) Area's needs that the Award will help meet
- 4) Community support and/or opposition for Award
- 5) The constituency served by the Award
- 6) Award quality
- 7) Award location
- 8) Effective use of resources
- 9) Unique features
- 10) Services to be offered
- 11) Address Allocation Plan points MUST include pages 3-9 of Form- A (the Application).

Non-optional fee: A fee charged for services/amenities that are mandatory (i.e. services that are required as a condition of occupancy). A fee may be charged for non-optional services, but the fee must be included in the gross rent calculation.

Over-income Household/Unit: For HOME purposes, a household is considered over-income if it exceeds 80% of AMI or for a Low HOME unit, if the household exceeds 50% of AMI. See Part 3.1 C for more information on properly handling over-income units.

Passbook Rate: The HUD approved rate for imputing assets. The current passbook rate is 2%.

PHA: Public Housing Authority.

Protected Class: One of the seven groups specifically protected by the Fair Housing Act. The seven protected classes are race, color, national origin, religion, sex, disability, and familial status.

Reasonable Accommodation: A change, exception, or adjustment in rules, policies, practices, or services when such a change is necessary to afford a person with a disability the equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, including public and common spaces. Under the Fair Housing Act, an owner must allow a reasonable accommodation unless doing so will be an undue financial burden or fundamentally alter the nature of the provider's operations.

Reasonable Modification: A change to the physical structure of the premises when such a change is necessary to afford a person with a disability the equal opportunity to use and enjoy a dwelling, including public and common spaces. Under the Fair Housing Act, an owner must allow a reasonable modification at the expense of the tenant, unless the change is one that should have already been included in order to comply with design and construction accessibility standards, in which case the owner will be responsible for paying for the modifications.

Recipient: Any individual, association, corporation, joint venture, or partnership that received HOME, CDBG, or Development Fund funding.

Rent Limit: The HUD published maximum rent amount, including a utility allowance and any non-optional fees. Rent limits are published by bedroom size.

Qualified Unit: A unit in a qualified low-income area occupied by qualified persons at a qualified rent.

Second-party Verification: Source documentation submitted to management by a tenant or applicant in order to disclose information about income or asset sources or other eligibility factors. Second-party verifications may only be used when third-party verifications cannot be received or are not necessary (see Part 4.3 for more info). An example of second-party verification is a paystub or bank statement provided to management by the tenant/applicant.

Section 8: Section 8 of the United States Housing Act of 1937, as Amended.

Self-certification: A signed affidavit from a tenant or applicant used to clarify information or to provide information that cannot be verified through third-party or second-party documents.

Set Aside: Shall mean and require that units designated as "set aside" for a specific population may be used only for the identified population and for no other. If qualified tenants in the designated population are not available, the unit(s) must remain vacant.

Special Needs Populations: An award recipient may have committed in writing to set aside a percentage of total units in the award to qualified tenants who meet the state definition of "special needs population," as provided in IC 5-20-1-.45 and must equip each unit to meet a particular person's need at no cost to the tenant. Special needs populations include:

- 1) Persons with physical or development disabilities
- 2) Persons with mental impairments
- 3) Single parent households
- 4) Victims of domestic violence
- 5) Abused children
- 6) Persons with chemical addictions
- 7) Homeless persons
- 8) The elderly

SRO Unit: Single Room Occupancy Unit, defined as single room that may or may not have food prep and sanitary facilities.

Temporarily noncompliant unit: A unit is considered to be temporarily out of compliance when a household that originally income qualified becomes an over-income household. Temporary noncompliance is permissible and does not penalize the owner as long as the owner follows the correct steps to restore the HOME unit mix.

Tenant: Any person occupying the unit.

Tenant/ Unit File: Complete and accurate records pertaining to each dwelling unit, containing the Application for each tenant, verification of income and assets of each tenant, Annual Income Re-certification, utility schedules, rent records, Lease and Lease addendum. Any authorized representative of IHCD or HUD shall be permitted access to these files upon receipt by award recipient or Management Company of prior written notice of not less than two calendar days.

Third-party Verification: A verification document submitted to management by a third-party entity in order to disclose information about the income or asset sources or other eligibility factors of an applicant or tenant. Third-party verifications must be sent to and received directly from the third-party source, not through the tenant or applicant. An example of third-party verification is an employment verification form completed by the employer.

Unearned Income: Income from assets and benefit sources such as Social Security. The unearned income of all household members (regardless of age) is included in the calculation of Annual Household Income.

Utility Allowance: The amount of utilities for a particular unit, as set by a utility allowance schedule published by HUD, Rural Development, or the PHA, or established by a letter from the utility company which states the rates, an IHCD estimate, the HUD Utility Schedule Model, or an Energy Consumption Model as calculated by an approved engineer or licensed professional. For more information see Part 3.3.

Vacant Unit: A unit that is currently unoccupied, but was formerly occupied by a qualified household.

Verification: Information from a third-party that is collected in order to corroborate the accuracy of information about income provided by applicants to an award.

Very low-income: HUD uses the term “very low-income” for households at or below 50% AMI.
